

RAILROAD WALKOUT SITUATION IS DARKER

Probability of Immediate Strike Is Said Not Imminent, but Hope of Settlement by U. S. Intervention Is Not Great

EMPLOYEES WILL STAND FIRMLY FOR DEMANDS

Formal Announcement of Vote Today Shows That More Than Ninety Percent of Men Are Ready to Quit at Once

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The 400,000 railway employees of the country—engineers, conductors, firemen and trainmen—today, through the chiefs of their four brotherhoods, placed before the managers of the railroads the question as to whether the roads were willing to grant their demands for an eight-hour day and time and a half pay for overtime or strike to a strike.

The result of the strike vote taken among the employees during the last month was presented to the national conference committee of railway managers and showed that an overwhelming majority were in favor of authorizing their officers to call a strike. The railroad managers gave no definite answer to the renewed demands of the men today and it was agreed to adjourn until tomorrow morning to give the managers time for further discussion.

Garretson, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, notified the managers that the time for parleying was over unless the roads were prepared to present a modified proposition. "If you are ready to prepare a modified proposition," said Garretson, "we are ready to discuss it."

Eliza Lee, for the railroads, said: "I am not going to answer your questions now in a definite form. I will take them up with the managers, together with the result of the strike ballot and all that appertains to it. Whether we have a proposition will develop by the time we meet."

Garretson interrupted to say: "I want you to bear in mind that your committee has not once brought us anything resembling a definite proposition."

Jury of Women To Hear Case Summioned for Inquest by Coroner

A coroner's jury of women will investigate the death of George Nicholas, the Alameda child, who died at the Oakland Receiving Hospital Sunday after being run over in Alameda by the automobile of John J. Fillipelli. The inquest will be held at the Oakland morgue at the Grant Miller undertaking establishment. Coroner Miller is subpoenaing a jury of East Oakland women to sit in the case.

The child was playing in front of the Nicholas home on Webster street and ran in front of Fillipelli's car. Fillipelli, following the child's death, was placed under arrest on a charge of manslaughter by the Oakland police and his case was then turned over to the Alameda police. He was released on his own recognizance by Judge Elmer B. Johnson, sitting for Police Judge L. R. Weinmann. Fillipelli's case has not yet been set for arraignment. He is a Webster-street shoe merchant. The testimony of eye-witnesses is that Fillipelli was driving slowly and that the child darted into the street and in front of the car. The child was knocked down by the car fender and his chest crushed when the auto passed over his body.

Street Car Strike in New York Settled

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Normal service of the most important surface street car lines in Manhattan and the Bronx was resumed today after having been partially interrupted by strikes of motormen and conductors beginning about two weeks ago and culminating Friday night last in a walkout of the men employed by the New York City Transit Corp. About 7,500 employees of this company and of the Third Avenue Railway system are affected by the settlement agreed upon yesterday by the directors and the men after a conference with Mayor Mitchell.

By the terms of the agreement the right of employees to organize is conceded and the two companies promise to treat with committees of their employees in settling grievances. A demand for increased wages will be discussed by committees not later than August 30 and if they fail of agreement the controversy will be submitted to arbitration. Strikes by employees of the Second Avenue, Queens and Staten Island Street Railway systems have not yet been adjusted, but the men believe they will be settled in the same manner similar to those given the other lines.

Senate Agrees to Army Bill Report

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Without debate, the Senate today agreed to the conference report on the army appropriation bill, carrying $287,597,000 for the maintenance of the reorganized regular army and National Guard.

The only criticism of the report came from Senator Clapp of Minnesota, who protested against elimination of the La Follette amendment increasing the minimum age limit for enlistment from 18 to 21 years without consent of parents or guardian. Because of this he voted against the report.

The bill provides for organization of a council of national defense to co-ordinate transportation, industrial and agricultural facilities in time of stress for relief of dependent families of soldiers in service on the Mexican coast crossing the border. It provides for more than $13,000,000 for development of aviation in the army.

Mexicans Arrest American Priest

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 8.—Father G. C. Van Goethman, a Catholic priest with a parish here, was arrested and detained when he crossed the Mexican border yesterday to administer religious services to a Mexican woman, dangerously ill, who had been summoned, but obtained release after a fight through the efforts of United States Consul Simpkins at Nogales, Ariz. The priest said that he was arrested at the public plaza of the Mexican town when arrested. He announced his intention of taking the case up with Secretary Lansing.

BABY SHOES TREMBLE ON JAIL FLOOR

First Effort at Walking and First Lipped Imitation of Speech Are Set in the Forbidding Shadows of a Prison

Ten-Months-Old Child of Mrs. Valerie Higgins Cannot Be Taken From Cell Because Mother Must Remain in Jail

When Mrs. Valerie Higgins appeared before Police Judge Mortimer Smith for arraignment on an arson charge today it was learned that the ten-month-old baby boy is a prisoner with her on the top floor of Oakland's city hall. It was also learned that the police hold a warrant for the arrest of her husband, John T. Higgins, whose disappearance Mrs. Higgins reported to the authorities on August 1. According to the authorities, Higgins is wanted for the issuance of a worthless check.

For three days Mrs. Higgins has occupied a cell in the city jail. When she has been interviewed by the police inspectors who procured the arson charge she meets them with her child in her arms. The little mite is just beginning to lisp its first syllables, and it was the first-faltering steps of his baby life.

The child, with his dark curls, his black eyes and his cooing lispings has brought some light into the lives of the women inmates of the prison. Women who are serving sentences of from thirty to ninety days, mostly on charges of drunkenness and vagrancy, are taking the little one in their arms, cuddling it and doing all in their power to relieve the monotony of its existence behind bars.

Beatrice A. McCall, secretary of the Women's Protective League, is seeking to have the child removed from the jail. This cannot be done unless the mother is released, as the baby cannot be taken from her. So far no friends have come forward in behalf of the lonely prisoner, who is again appear in the police court on August 15, when her preliminary examination will be held.

The woman was arrested Saturday night at 4 o'clock Saturday morning when an incendiary fire was discovered at the door of her apartment in the Chestnutwood. "Twelfth" and Grove streets. Charles A. Smith, manager of the house, swore to an arson complaint against her yesterday.

The police have refused to give details of the charge which they hold against her. The woman, who is manager of the commissary department of the Sierra Club, is a means of feeding more than 1000 pickets now actively engaged in front of restaurants where the culinary strike and lockout is in effect, the joint board of the culinary workers today opened a restaurant.

The strikers also started publication of a daily sheet to chronicle the strike situation. The paper will be edited and managed by the women. The strikers' union, today declared that he would file a complaint with the city health officer against two prominent caterers for charging violation of city ordinance prohibiting help from sleeping in quarters where food is prepared. Ernest stated that negro strikebreakers are sleeping in the kitchens of both cafes.

EACH MINUTE HAS LABORS FOR HUGHES

Republican Leader Arrives in Torrid Chicago With Program of Strenuous Nature Prepared for His Coming

Only One Speech on Schedule, but Handshaking, Viseing of Campaign Plans and Other Things Balance Lack

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Charles Evans Hughes is out-Roosevelting Roosevelt in strenuousness of campaigning. Arriving here today, the Republican nominee was fresh as a daisy after a day in Detroit that kept him on the jump, in fiercely hot weather, from early morn to late at night, included six speeches and a break-neck bit of automobile speeding around the town. Moreover, Hughes seemed likely today to achieve a new record in Chicago for stumblers.

Only one speech was scheduled—at the Coliseum, where back in June the G. O. P. selected him as its candidate—but the nominee had to straighten out a slightly tangled factional mess between Republicans in Illinois, who expected to put the seal of approval on a number of campaign measures for the western fight formulated by National Chairman Willcox and, it seemed likely, would have a great deal of handshaking to do.

At noon he was to hold an open hand-shaking reception in the rotunda of a loop skyscraper. This afternoon he will be taken for an automobile tour of Chicago's boulevard system. Tonight he will address a mass meeting at the Coliseum.

Mrs. Fred Upham, wife of the Illinois national committeeman, formed the head of a party of women who greeted Mrs. Hughes. The candidate's wife will have a busy day, too.

EPIGRAMS ARE MANY.

Only just started in his campaign for the highest office in the land, Hughes today had already developed an almost Rooseveltian vocabulary of denunciation and of aphorism. Some of his epigrams coined so far are:

"The Democratic party is a party for voters who are not voters."

"The Democratic party came up to the protection tax like a skittish horse approaching a brass band."

"We are entitled to a standing army with decent men, not of cheap, as in the Mexican mobilization, just as much as a city is entitled to proper police protection."

"The military problem is a problem of good sense."

GERMANS WIN VERDUN VICTORY

Thiaumont Recaptured Again

British Repulse All Attacks

PARIS, Aug. 8.—German troops recaptured the strongly fortified Thiaumont work northeast of Verdun, in a most powerful assault early this morning. It was officially announced at the war office today. The battle is still raging around the redoubt.

After a night of terrific bombardment the Germans directed five most violent attacks against the French position from Fleury village to the Thiaumont position. Big forces were employed in these attacks, which were continued regardless of heavy losses.

At Fleury village the Germans were completely repulsed, suffering heavily. By repeated onslaughts the French force finally fought its way into the Thiaumont work, which was recaptured last week by the French in their counter-offensive.

The French immediately counter-attacked and desperate fighting was going on at this point when the last despatches were filed to the war office.

ALLIES TAKE PRISONERS.

In the north of the Somme the French last night, moving forward jointly with the British in an attack directed against the village of Gullefont, made progress east of Hill 139 and north of the village of Hardecourt. Forty prisoners were taken in this region. Along the north bank of the river the Germans twice attacked newly won French positions east of Maunau farm, but each time were repulsed, losing heavily. The French took 230 prisoners in yesterday's fighting around Monacu farm.

SLAVS GAIN ON FIFTEEN MILE LINE IN GALICIA

Town of Tlumach, as Well as Region East of Dniester River and Ridge of Heights, There Are in Hands of Czar

MANY PRISONERS AND MUNITIONS ARE TAKEN

Cavalry in Pursuit of Routed Armies and Petrograd Claims Victory Is Decided; Berlin Admits Withdrawal of Forces

PETROGRAD, Aug. 8.—South of the Dniester river, in the direction of Tyszenica, the Russians have driven the Austro-German forces back along the whole line for a breadth of fifteen miles. It was officially announced by the Russian war department. The announcement adds that the Russians have captured the town of Tlumach, as well as the region to the east of the Dniester river and the ridge of heights there.

Russian cavalry, it is stated, is pursuing the Austro-German southwest of Kolomea and Stanislaw railways in Galicia. The total number of prisoners taken by the Russians in the battles on the Sereth river, August 5 and August 6, the official statement adds, was 166 officers and 8,415 men. The Russians in this region are advancing.

Opening their attack in the region of Tyszenica, the Austro-Germans had little activity for several weeks. The czar's troops broke through enemy trenches and then engaged the Austrians while they were fleeing.

Under Russian onslaughts the whole enemy line was shattered. Tlumach and the region east of the heights along the Dniester ridge were taken. Southwest of Kolomea-Stanislaw railway, the Russian artillery silenced enemy guns. Cavalry then swung into action and pursued the enemy forces, fleeing disordered. One Russian division captured 2,000 Germans, several heavy guns and many machine guns. Prisoners are still arriving from the scene of this action.

On the Sereth river front south of Brod, the Russians are continuing their advance and fortifying the captured positions. In the fighting on this front Saturday and Sunday Russian troops captured 166 officers and 8,415 men, four cannon, nineteen machine guns and eleven trench mortars.

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—Strong Russian forces yesterday advanced against the Austro-German positions on the Tlumach-Ottawa line to the south of Dniester river in Galicia, it is stated by Russian military authorities. The German army headquarters staff today said that forces of the central powers withdrew to previously prepared positions.

Law Closes Its Grip on Arsonist

Snyder, Last of Ring, Is Held to Answer

Melvin J. Snyder, the last of the Brooklyn ring of arsonists, was held to answer to the Superior Court by Police Judge Mortimer Smith today on a charge of arson. Bail was fixed at $8000. Snyder was held in connection with the fire which destroyed a house at 4100 Thirty-ninth avenue two years ago and on which fire insurance was collected. Inspector William P. Kyle arrested Snyder in a small lumber camp in the wilds of Washington two weeks ago, after he had spent his vacation seeking the man. He located him after a score of officers had passed through the camp, some of whom conversed with Snyder. Snyder's wife is a sister of Mrs. Jennie Burright, wife of Lester Burright, who was the leader of the arson ring which started fires in more than twenty cities and towns on the coast, from Canada in the north to the Mexican line in the south. Burright is serving a five-year term in San Quentin and his wife is on probation for a similar term. The Burrights and the Snyders lived together in the Thirty-ninth avenue house at the time of the fire. This was the last operation of the ring, the arrest of the Burrights occurring in San Jose a few weeks later. Following the arrest of this pair Kyle traced down the rest of the ring, more than ten in number. They had been sought by the police two score cities for more than five years.

MAJOR SHUNS IMPROVEMENT CLUB ROSTRUM

Executive Does Not Appear for Address to Rockridge Residents.

Mayor Davis declined to attend the meeting of the Vernon-Rockridge Improvement Club last evening because he claimed that at a previous meeting he was held by the civic association to discuss the western waterfront proposal of F. M. Smith and his associates. He had been hooded down and greeted with hisses and catcalls and he did not propose to subject himself again to this experience.

This was the statement of Secretary M. C. Holman in explanation of the mayor's absence when he had been specially invited to present his arguments in opposition to the proposed lease in a joint debate with a representative of the proponents.

On invitation of the president of the club Dr. Clarence E. Edwards presented the proposal regarding the lease on behalf of Smith and his associates and at the conclusion of his remarks he was subjected to an hour's catcallism by the members of the club.

After a vote of thanks had been given to the speaker the Vernon-Rockridge Improvement Club endorsed the proposition and agreed to give it hearty support.

It was decided that the next meeting, two weeks from date, should be an entertainment night to be devoted to the work of the club.

Farm Loan Board Is to Meet August 21

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Hearings by the new farm loan board preparatory to dividing the country into districts and locating the twelve farm loan banks created by the rural credit act will begin August 21 at Portland, Me. The board will visit all points of the country holding its hearings as far as possible at State capitals. It is probable that at least six months will be required to lay out the districts and set up the organization of the new system. Members of the board called at the White House today and were introduced to President Wilson by Secretary McAdoo, ex-officio chairman. They were heartily congratulated by the President upon launching their work yesterday.

Masked Robbers Take Five-Ton Auto Truck

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Two robbers, their faces masked by handkerchiefs, held up Henry Haas, watchman in the stable of P. X. Lehner, 55 Erie street, early this morning and stole a five-ton automobile truck. No attempt was made to rifle the safe in the office or search Haas' pockets. The bandits, evidently familiar with the premises, kept the watchman covered, climbed on the truck, started it and drove away.

Starr Leaves Quarter of Million Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The will of Sydney L. Starr, secretary of the Starr estate, who died August 1, was filed for probate in the Superior court today by the widow, Mrs. Estelle Starr, of 391 Powell street, who is named executrix. The property, valued at $250,000, is left to the widow as a brother in New York. No mention is made of two brothers residing in Portland, Ore.

CLARK IS HONORED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—When Republican Leader Mann reminded the House yesterday that Speaker Clark had just passed his thirty-third anniversary as a member of Congress, Republicans and Democrats rose and cheered the Speaker for several minutes. Responding, Clark said he wasn't sure he wanted to remain in the House another thirty-three years, but did know he wanted to stay as long as he could.

KOENIGSBERG, East Prussia, Aug. 8.

"An explosion of ammunition which was being shipped from the depot here this morning caused the death of thirty men and twenty women. Fourteen other persons were injured severely and fifty-five received minor injuries. The explosion caused fire, which soon was brought under control."

Frank Munoz, charged with entering the room of Thomas Conannon intent to commit larceny, was placed on probation for four years this morning by Judge Frank B. O'Brien.

MOVIES ON THE JOB.

Some politicians on the train today had leisure enough to figure out that Eugene Hughes had been in Bridgehampton for a short rest somewhere about September 12, his features will have been preserved for posterity on about two thousand miles of celluloid film. Every time the candidate goes there is a man turning the crank of a box plant at him. On Hughes' train is a party of three or four moving picture men.

Speaking of whiskers, artists of campaign picture takers encountered all seem to have the idea that the Hughes facial adornments resemble the appendage made famous in Kansas.

HAIRSTORM RUINS OREGON GRAIN CROP

PRINEVILLE, Ore., Aug. 8.—Reports were received here from many parts of the Ochoco Valley that heavy rain and hailstorm accompanied by a high wind had done great damage to the grain crops late yesterday. The grain was flattened down and in many cases where it was ripe it was virtually threshed out. The extent of the damage has not been estimated.

AMERICANS NOT SHOT BY MEXICAN BANDITS

EL PASO, Aug. 8.—Investigation today by American outposts stationed along the border on the outskirts of El Paso disclosed that two privates of Company K, Eighth Massachusetts Infantry, had fired upon a cactus plant. The guardsmen contended, however, that they had fired upon smugglers. General George Bell, commanding the El Paso military district, announced investigation developed nothing to substantiate a report that a Mexican woman and two American soldiers crossed into Mexican territory near the point of the shooting and had not returned.

Andres Garvia, Mexican consul to El Paso, announced that government troops had captured a Villa adherent who was implicated in the massacre of 17 Americans at Santa Ysabel last January. The bandit is being taken to Chihuahua City.

San Jose Protests Raise in Tariff

SAN JOSE, Aug. 8.—According to W. D. traffic manager of the Chamber of Commerce, more than a score of complaints have been filed with the State Commerce Commission by San Jose shippers, protesting the proposed increase in East and West bound transcontinental freight, and a special information hearing will be held August 14, at which they will be considered.

Old San Francisco City Hall Is Sold

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The old city hall at the corner of McAllister and Central streets was sold at auction today for $2200.

The successful bidder was the Dolan Wrecking & Construction Company. The auction was held on this hall steps by Edward Rainey, private secretary to Mayor Ralph.

Germany Plans For Winter War

Peace Before Christmas Feeling Exists

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—Though the feeling exists among some quarters that peace may come before Christmas with the defeat of the Anglo-French offensive, Germany is making every preparation for another winter campaign.

In large storehouses in Berlin thousands of army overcoats fresh from the manufacturers are being packed away, ready for shipment to the front. Several thousand auto trucks are also being gotten ready for winter fighting.

BRITISHER IS CRITIC OF U.S. NAVY PLANS

One of England's Great Experts Says Appropriation Made Is Only Modest Considering Our Vast Resources

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The naval program of the United States is a modest one, in the opinion of Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge, retired, one of England's greatest naval experts and counselors. Admiral Bridge was formerly commander-in-chief of the Austrian fleet and director of naval industry. Since his retirement he has served on committees inquiring in war branch of naval activity.

"I cannot regard," said Admiral Bridge, "the naval appropriation and the program agreed upon by the United States Senate as more than modest considering in connection with your resources and requirements or when we remember that the strength of the police force should be commensurate with the treasures that tempt."

The action of your government seems timely. I have been one of those who consider the Panama canal as an even greater asset for defensive purposes than for commercial advantage, and I believe that a larger naval program for your country certainly is justified by the inability to place perfect confidence in the canal's availability because of slides now and then, I refer, of course, to the emergency of transferring quickly from one side of your continent to the other of your ships, in case of attack, bearing in mind the wisdom of your being able to concentrate on both sides, until the problem of slides has been definitely solved, enough naval strength to meet any attack.

It appears that your naval experts have duly considered this point in making provision for 157 additional ships, including sixteen capital ships, in a program to be completed within the next few years. With your present strength, such an addition will indeed place your power on the sea next to that of Britain.

"I think it was in about 1916 or 1907 that your country attained to second place as a sea power after proceeding neck and neck with Germany and France respectively for a number of years. Then the United States seemed to lose interest and fell behind. I must, therefore, be a wise precaution for you to play now on such a wholesome scale.

"Notwithstanding some divergence of opinion on the subject, I think that it is quite safe to say that the lessons of engagement in the war have justified the generally adopted division into classes of fighting craft—battleships, heavy and light cruisers, destroyers and, perhaps, submarines."

Answers Scoring of Wilson Policies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Replying to Republican criticism of President Wilson's Mexican policy in the House today, Representative Harrison of Mississippi declared that the attack was prompted by a desire to create a false campaign issue rather than to see the policy changed.

Harrison mentioned former Justice Hughes' speech in the House in support of the Republican nomination and speeches in Congress by Senator Ball and Representative Rodenberg of Illinois.

He interpreted Mr. Hughes' statements as meaning that he would have recognized Huerta, would not have issued munitions embargoes and would have intervened in Mexico.

"Mr. Hughes was president," he added, "the country would be at war, and instead of a sky reflecting the color from the furnace of prosperous factories it would be reflections of red streams of blood from noble souls."

Executive Budget Is Butler's Plan for U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The executive budget as a solution of the problem of waste, extravagance and incompetence in the administration of the Federal Government, was the theme of an address by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and one of the leading publicists of the country, at the Commonwealth Club luncheon yesterday.

"The Next Step Forward in Government" was the subject, and President Butler said that it was not a partisan matter, but meant the introduction of business methods in government management. He said that the executive budget, besides making for efficiency and economy, would render the government more quickly and more directly responsible to the people's will.

Willis Booth Makes Talks in Eight Towns

CHICO, Aug. 8.—Willis H. Booth ended his northern trip today with speeches at Gridley, Live Oak, Yuba City, Marysville, Wheatland, Lincoln and Roseville. He leaves tonight for Los Angeles to address a number of big meetings in Southern California.

DIVORCE MILL BUSY.

Suit for divorce on the ground of desertion was filed this morning by David Stoddard against Lavinia Stoddard. The marriage of the couple took place in Oakland, November 30, 1914, and the date of the alleged desertion was July 26, 1915.

Esrella A. Davis was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Howard P. Davis by Judge Wood on the ground of cruelty. The marriage of the couple occurred in Oakland, January 9, 1910, and they have two children. The plaintiff testified that abusive epithets had been frequently applied to her by her husband and that he once threw her across a room.

PROHIBITIONISTS NOTIFY LEADERS

Hanly and Landrith Told of Honor; One Plank Is Repudiated.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 8.—J. Frank Hanly, former governor of Indiana, and Dr. Ira Landrith of Boston were notified this afternoon of their respective nominations for President and Vice President on the Prohibition party ticket in his speech of acceptance Mr. Hanly repudiated one plank of the national prohibition platform. He said he did not favor the initiative, referendum and recall, that he would not uphold it in his campaign speeches, and if elected he would oppose its enactment into a law.

Dr. Landrith said he had always been an independent Democrat and asserted he would continue to vote with the "party of my fathers" in local and state affairs, but in all national matters he would support only the cause which called for state and national wide prohibition.

The notification ceremonies were held at Hanly's residence and were attended by representative prohibitionists from all over the country. Robert H. Patton of Springfield, Ill., delivered the address of notification to Hanly. He said he believed complete eradication rather than treatment to alleviate the evils of the liquor traffic to be the proper solution to the question before the party.

DISCUSSES PLANKS.

In reply Hanly discussed the planks in the national prohibition platform and approved virtually all of them. Oliver W. Stewart made the address of notification to Dr. Landrith, speaking in the place of Daniel A. Poling of Boston, who was unable to attend. The details of the campaign plans, Hanly's choice for chairman of the committee was selected. He is Oliver W. Stewart, Hanly's business partner. The executive committee will meet tomorrow.

SPEECH IN PART.

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Notification Committee: Speaking as the national prohibition platform, but recently convened in the City of St. Paul, you have formally notified me of my nomination by the Prohibition party for President of the United States. You have couched your notice to me in such generous and pleasant terms, and have performed your mission with such delicate courtesy and kindly good will, that I cannot refrain from expressing my grateful acknowledgments to you, and to each of you. I accept the nomination, profoundly sensible of the great honor and the grave responsibility it brings.

"I have not hitherto affiliated with you in party action, but upon the one great issue which you tender to the electorate of the nation as first in character and importance, and by which you have stood with unwavering devotion for half a century, without hope of reward other than the ultimate triumph of the cause itself, I have long been at one with you. Upon this great issue your minds and mine are one. We share a common faith and hold a common purpose.

"If power is given us we will end this traffic—and it though it require the exercise of every atom of power vested in the government, or inherent in the people. Legislative enactments, administrative action, judicial decision and constitutional amendment—all shall be used for its destruction."

CHALLENGE INTELLECT.

"If the support of this high enterprise, we challenge the intellect, the heart and the conscience of the nation. If those who limit the righteousness of the thing we mean to do, and who desire the consummation of the end we seek, will enlist and vote and stand with us, we will elect the ticket you have named, and before the end of our first administration render a service unmatched since the days of Abraham Lincoln and the abolition of human slavery.

"There is in the platform one plank which I can neither approve nor accept; which I cannot defend in the campaign, which, if elected, I would oppose; and which, if brought to me as a proposed law, I would veto. I refer to the following: 'We favor the initiative, referendum and recall.'

"My statement in regard to this is based upon the assumption that the

Wilson to Take Up Mexico Defi

Acceptance Speech Date May Be Changed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—President Wilson will accept Mexico as the campaign issue if Republican Candidate Hughes and his followers continue to insist they desire the fight for the presidency waged on this question.

This was the declaration of those close to the President today. President Wilson has agreed to open the Democratic campaign around September 1, regardless of Congress. September 2 has been agreed upon as the date for Wilson's "notification," but should it appear evident that Congress will continue in session until well into September, the President may make his speech of acceptance the last week in August.

WOULD ARBITRATE LABOR TROUBLES

Peter Crosby Urges Creation of Federal Bureaus to Settle Strike.

Speaking to 200 employees of the Photoplayer Manufacturing Company in West Berkeley yesterday afternoon, Peter J. Crosby, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district, declared himself directly interested in federal legislation which would bring the government and the labor organizations of the country into closer co-operation so that arbitration, under the auspices of the federal bureaus, might be frequently resorted to instead of the strike.

"I believe that every arm of the federal government should be employed in the immediate work for the people, to the extent that where it is possible, the hosts of labor might turn to Uncle Sam and ask him to determine the equities between labor and capital, to the end that the men who make the machinery of the nation go around, and the innocent dependents in their homes, might not be compelled to wait long for the end of the strikes. Capital and labor are not far apart and the genius of American statesmanship can be depended upon in the future, as it has in the past, to aid as an arm of the government when the two great forces in our national existence are deadlocked."

Crosby was cordially greeted by the men during the noon hour. The candidate has made a number of addresses to the mill workers, mechanics, railroad men and others employed in building the industries of the country.

A number of meetings have been scheduled for him before district Republican clubs. Having been elected a delegate to the national Republican convention at Chicago by a large majority in this county, he is well known in the party, being at present a member of the Republican County Central committee.

declaration implies approval of the initiative, referendum and recall in state and national affairs. If so intended, I cannot yield it my assent. So applied I believe them to be subversive of representative constitutional government.

"Wherever they have obtained they have brought confusion and harm. Where the initiative and referendum have been applied to the amendment of constitutions they have made these solemn and organic charters liquid as water, and volatile as oil. They will do the same to the federal constitution. All three are revolutionary, but not progressive. They are the weapons of the bad officer rather than the defense of the good.

"For forty years you have favored woman suffrage. Your attitude in regard to it has been neither born of fear nor forced upon you by party expediency. On this I stand four-square with you, and if given power we will not be satisfied to 'recommend the extension of the franchise to her by states,' or to 'recognize the right of each state to settle the question for itself,' but will by constitutional amendment force any state to deny or abridge her right to vote because of her sex."

WILSON ACCUSED OF FORCING SOLONS

Senator Cummins Assails Methods of Nation's Executive.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Senator Cummins today charged President Wilson with forcing Democrats in the House and Senate to adopt legislation against their judgment and told opponents of the child labor bill who contend it is unconstitutional that the presidential assumption of legislative functions was a greater menace to the constitution than the passage of any measure.

"There has not been a single important measure passed since 1913 in which Democratic Congressmen have not felt the heavy hand of the executive," said the Senator.

"Those Senators who see an invasion of state rights and menace to the passage of the present bill, ignore the gross violations of the constitution exhibited every day during the season."

Wilson Urges Navy Bill Agreement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—President Wilson summoned Senator Swanson and Representative Padgett, representing the Senate and House conferees on the naval bill, to the White House today to gain information on the result of the conference and to urge again that the House accept the Senate provisions for a larger building program and increase in the personnel of the navy. The President was told of the failure of the conferees yesterday to reach an agreement on these two features, and was informed that a vote on the conference report would be taken in the House next Tuesday.

Philippine Extension Measure Is Reported

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The Philippine government extension bill, which would have provided for freedom of the islands within four years, was reported to the Senate from conference today. The conferees virtually agreed to the language of the House bill, which affirmed the purpose of the United States to withdraw from the Philippines whenever a stable government has been established. It is expected that it will be acceptable by both houses in that form.

Willis and Cox Win Ohio Nominations

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 8.—The Republican nomination of Frank B. Willis as Republican candidate for governor and James M. Cox, former governor, as candidate for the chief executive office on the Democratic ticket is indicated by the early ballot of the Ohio primaries today. A light vote will be polled it was indicated.

Rudolph A. Mack of Cincinnati is the chief opponent of Willis, with George Shaw of Cleveland as third candidate.

Federal Wage Bill Blocked in House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—An attempt by Representative Nolan of California to call up in the House his bill providing a minimum wage of three dollars a day for Federal employees was blocked by Representative Cox of Indiana, who secured an adjournment after an hour's wrangle by a vote of 93 to 89.

LIAR, HYPOCRITE, FOOL--WIFE'S SONG

Asks Divorce From Woman Who Pinched and Called His Relatives "Suckers."

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—Mental cruelty, in the form of a campaign of unceasing harassment instituted by his wife, impelled by extreme jealousy as to every woman with whom he came in contact, yesterday won a decree of divorce for Dr. Francis M. Pottenger, tuberculosis specialist and head of the Pottenger Sanitarium at Monrovia.

Such was the effect of his testimony given in Superior Judge Wood's court yesterday. He was opposed by his wife, Mrs. Adelaide B. Pottenger. She was not in court, though represented by an attorney.

Here are some of the things he charged:

That she refused to attend a dinner party given on the occasion of his mother's birthday, and while the dinner was in progress broke into the room and knocked the dishes off the table.

That she was extremely jealous of the matrons at the sanitarium and threatened to throw one over a precipice, and walked another at 4 o'clock in the morning and told her she was discharged, and threatened if another was not discharged to burn the sanitarium.

That she had a chant which she delivered on frequent occasions to annoy him: "Liar, hypocrite, fool, liar, hypocrite, fool; liar, hypocrite, fool; ad libitum."

That she whistled to annoy him when he was writing or reading; she did not whistle a tune, but just whistled to make noise.

That she refused to have help in their home, saying that if they got a woman the doctor would fall in love with her.

That he was forced to take her on a rush trip to Europe because she threatened to poison herself if he refused.

That she was continually criticizing his father and brother because they were associated with him in financial matters, and would say of them: "Suckers, suckers, suckers."

Prison Problems to Be Lecture Subject

Prison problems, solutions and reform is to be the subject of a series of addresses which will be given by Captain W. I. Day under the auspices of the Men's Social Service Club of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, Market and Thirty-fourth streets. Beginning next Sunday, Captain Day, who is an authority on prisons and their inmates, will speak before the organization, giving his ideas on the solution of prison reform problems and making known to his listeners the immediate labor necessary to bring about the change.

The speaker's solution has been endorsed by many social and business clubs in the city district, besides having the hearty approval of several ministerial associations. The subjects for Captain Day's address next Sunday are "The Complex Prison Problem" and "The Complete Solution of the Problems of Prisons and Prisoners." These addresses will be given at the morning and evening services. The public is invited.

Mexico Willing to Discuss All Carranza Desires Military Status Settled

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The first direct notice that Mexico is willing to include other subjects than military matters in the coming conference was given to Acting Secretary of State Polk today by Mexican Ambassador Arredondo. He told Polk the de facto government desires merely that the military status be put ahead of other matters, because of the more immediately pressing nature of the army question.

The administration has decided to agree to General Carranza's suggestion in his last note for the discussion of points of difference between the United States and Mexico by a commission of six members, and will proceed at once to the selection of the three American representatives. This will be done on the understanding that after the points proposed by General Carranza are disposed of other questions will be taken up.

WANT NAVY BILL DEFEATED.

Telegrams urging the defeat of the naval bills in Congress have been sent to President Woodrow Wilson and Senators James D. Phelan and John M. Works of California, Union Against Militarism. The telegrams were sent from the association's headquarters, 339 Albany building, Oakland.

"Because I believed that the time had come when, if the American people wanted, to have a government which represented this ideal of faith—no compromise, no retreat, to make our country ready for the future and I could do something, I should have held myself the most ignoble of men if I had not responded to that call."

PARALYSIS CLAIMS 53 MORE BABES

Big Gain in New York Epidemic Coincident With Epidemic Wave; 183 New Cases Have Been Reported in Great City

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Another humidity wave which has gripped New York is coincident with another big increase in the epidemic of infantile paralysis.

Once since the plague got its start six weeks ago there were more cases than reported in today's health department bulletin. During the 24-hour period ending at 10 a. m., 53 children died of the disease in the greater city, and 183 new cases were reported.

There were 28 deaths and 89 cases in the borough of Brooklyn, while in Manhattan a marked increase in both fatalities and new cases was shown, 15 children dying and 54, a record number, being stricken.

Since the epidemic began on June 24, there have been 5347 cases and 1156 deaths.

Twelve persons who have recovered from attacks of infantile paralysis have volunteered to give quantities of their blood to be used in the preparation of serum for the treatment of the disease as the result of an appeal for volunteers in fighting the epidemic. Sufficient blood was taken from two of the volunteers to treat nine cases.

Dr. Haven Emerson, the commissioner, said that forty patients have been treated with the serum from immune subjects and the results have been so satisfactory that they would be continued. He declared the physicians are not yet in a position to say the serum has proved its curative value, but it has been such as to justify a careful trial.

Richard T. Crane Jr., the Chicago manufacturer, telegraphed Mayor Mitchell from Jefferson, N. H., last night, that he will give $25,000 to the physician who can offer the best cure or preventive for infantile paralysis within the next year. A majority vote of the American Medical Association is to decide who shall receive the reward.

The spread of the epidemic among the homes of the wealthy New York men in the suburban districts of Long Island is one of its latest developments. Three children of one man having a summer home in the Shoreham Hill section of Oyster Bay have the disease, which also has appeared in the Meadow Brook Hunt Colony at Westbury, Long Island. One woman, 42 years old, is now numbered among the victims.

FORTY IN CHICAGO
CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Chicago now has forty cases of infantile paralysis, according to Dr. John Hill-Robertson, city health commissioner. Three new cases were reported yesterday.

Government Men and Coin to Fight Plague

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—An act appropriating $5,000 for the use of the public health service in preventing the spread of disease and $50,000 for additional assistant surgeons, was signed today by President Wilson. The money is available immediately and will be used in the campaign to check the infantile paralysis epidemic. It was announced at the public health service today that Passed Assistant Surgeon J. R. Hurley, of Washington, and Assistant Surgeon J. B. Laughlin at New Orleans had been ordered to New York to join the staff now there fighting against the epidemic. Assistant Surgeon Hurley said the force was deemed necessary, partly because of the action of the Pennsylvania health authorities declaring a quarantine against the disease. Health service officials say the $50,000 for additional assistant surgeons will provide about twenty-two more men. Examinations will be held throughout the country.

Lantern Poles Warp Tempers

Pesky Motorboats in the Way of Progress

Why should the spirit of mortal be proud? Is it not sufficient that a man should own a launch? Must he be stiff-necked and hard of heart just because he can ply back and forth through the estuary in a little "put-put, put-put" boat?

These questions are being asked by the tenders of the Webster street draw bridge, those kindly servants of the public who cause the big mass of navigators to rotate solemnly while your street car waits to permit a tiny water craft to pass through.

In their lawful occasions the bridge tenders have arisen and promulgated a new rule. Little launches carrying a pole for the night lantern shall arrange to have this pole removable, like the periscope of the Deutschland. Then, upon approaching the drawbridge, it will not be necessary to stop all the traffic between Oakland and Alameda for a little two-by-four cockle with a two-horsepower, small-producer. The bridge need not be opened. All that will be necessary is the removal for the moment of the light pole.

But the launch owners are proud and erect of spirit. Are they not entitled to the protection of the high seas? Are there laws of navigation that not solemnly while your street car waits to permit a tiny water craft to pass through. In their lawful occasions the bridge tenders have arisen and promulgated a new rule. Little launches carrying a pole for the night lantern shall arrange to have this pole removable, like the periscope of the Deutschland. Then, upon approaching the drawbridge, it will not be necessary to stop all the traffic between Oakland and Alameda for a little two-by-four cockle with a two-horsepower, small-producer. The bridge need not be opened. All that will be necessary is the removal for the moment of the light pole.

Pioneer East Oakland Resident Passes Away

The funeral of Mrs. Julia E. Steere, 1133 East Twelfth street, who passed away yesterday after 84 years of life, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the James Taylor parlors. Interment will follow in Mountain View cemetery.

Mrs. Steere was a resident of East Oakland for forty-seven years and came to California in 1855. She was a native of Albany, New York, and the widow of Thomas P. Steere, a well-known local business man.

A long list of family names are among those who survive the deceased. Captain Henry Steere, formerly of the Philippine Bureau of Internal Revenue, is the only living child. The late Mrs. Julia W. Richardson and the late Dot Townsend Steere were the other children. Eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren are living. The grandchildren are: Lieutenant Thomas I. Steere, U. S. A.; Mrs. Ruth Reno, wife of Major Reno, U. S. A.; Edward, John and Julia H. Steere, Mrs. W. A. Kenner, Miss Barbara Richardson and Dorothy Richardson, while the great grandchildren consist of Julia Reno, W. W. Reno Jr., Virginia Virginia Steere and Helen Elizabeth Kenner. She was also the great aunt of Professor Herbert Richard Cross, University of Michigan.

AUTO PICNIC AT SUNOL TOMORROW

Huge Gathering of Motorists to Help Celebrate Good Roads Day.

By EDMUND CRINNION.
Good Roads Day (tomorrow), Wednesday August 9. All roads in Northern California will lead to the Water Temple at Sunol.

The occasion will be a mammoth picnic held under the joint auspices of the Lincoln Highway committee, good roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Automobile Trade Association of Alameda county.

The picnic is to be a good roads demonstration. It is to fittingly celebrate the California Good Roads day, which has been set apart by proclamation by the Governor for that purpose above all other days of this National Touring Week.

The motor car owners of Alameda and Contra Costa counties are to be there. San Francisco is to send a delegation of motorists. Dealers of automobiles, private owners, boosters and even the suburbanians will be there. Everyone is invited that has an auto to go in and even those who have no cars are invited to come if they can find room in a friend's car.

It is to be a big family affair. No obligation of any kind is incurred by those taking advantage of the occasion. No charges will be exacted. All the committees ask of the motor car owner is to come and make the demonstration the biggest success of its kind ever held in California. We are going to overshadow Los Angeles at her own game and we are going to have San Francisco over here to see that we do the job right.

Miscellaneous. So it is said, will be in the air. Theodore Schleuter is looking after that. There will be a baseball game between the motor car fraternity and the Chamber of Commerce men. There will be a fat man's race, sack races, skidding races, and a variety of other amusements. It is even expected that the event will see the old Roman signal of "thumbs down" used with glowing effect in the Lincoln Highway State contest, a certain challenger in a three-round boxing match. Bicycle races—real bicycle races—in which used-to-be champion bicyclists will compete. In this event will be such talent as George Faulkner, Harrison B. Wood and Hugo Muller, besides others who have not as yet signed entry blanks. Otto Wulfsch is to be there and demonstrate in the water temple the latest in the modern interpretation of the medieval serpent wiggles. A heavy rope will be at hand for the purpose of bracing two tug-of-war teams, so that they may not fall apart. However, who knows just what purposes this rope may be used for before the day is over.

After the luncheon have been stored away, irrespective of whether by vacuum or gravity feed, the motor car owners will be on good roads. By Commissioner Stern of the State Highway Department. Joseph E. Caine will act in the capacity of toastmaster. After the program of the day is over, the motor car owners will be at liberty to return home any way.

The event will start when the participants gather at the Hotel Oakland at 9:30 in the morning and at 10 the gathering will parade over Thirteenth street and out Broadway to Claremont avenue, thence over Tunnel road approach to the Skyline boulevard, over the Skyline to the Moraga avenue road, thence over the Fourth avenue connector to the Foothill boulevard to Hayward and through the Dublin canyon to Dublin, and thence via the Hacienda to the Sunol Water Temple, where the picnic will be held. Arrangements have been made for the parade to be featured by moving picture operators.

So that there will be no misunderstanding, we will repeat: Everybody is welcome. Your presence is wanted. Come and bring your family or your friends. Take your own lunch; the committee has nothing to sell. There will be no one to go with you to the Chamber of Commerce and you will be fixed up with genial companions. Meet at the Hotel Oakland at 9:30 sharp to form in line.

TEARS FALL FOR BRAVE, FRAIL GIRL

Clubmen Mourn by Bier of Crippled Telephone Operator.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Flowers in profusion heaped the nave of St. Bridget's Church this morning, surrounding the coffin of Miss Mae Frenna. They were tokens of esteem and honor from lawyers, bankers, doctors and business men who had spoken to her daily and received a cheery word in reply that tuned them right for the day's work. For Miss Frenna was the little crippled telephone operator in the Olympic Club.

The Olympic Club stands for the glorification of the physical ideal. The Apollo Belvedere, the Discus Thrower and other classic statuary, depicting energy, strength and symmetry, adorn the corridors, and the members are men who strive to attain and keep a certain standard of physical perfection. And little Miss Frenna was a cripple.

Four years ago she took her place at the switchboard, timid, suffering and patient. Slowly she assumed control of this nerve nexus of the busy organization, bringing order out of the disorder which several men operators had brought about. Slowly she became an almost indispensable unit of the club. Upon her the members relied for punctual appointments and for home calls when they were not in the club.

Slowly the members realized that in this little tortured body there was a spirit that helps others by giving from its inner strength. Many a man made it a daily habit to stop at her desk and exchange a few words with her for the sake of the uplift which came from her cheery smile and pleasant response. And now she is dead.

Miss Frenna lived at 1231 Jackson street, where she lived with a younger sister, for whose education she was providing. In her spare hours she gave music lessons. She was an artist of talent and her work has been commended by critics.

Bay Bridge Project Before Civic Bodies

A meeting of all the Chambers of Commerce in the San Francisco Bay region interested in the proposed San Francisco Oakland bridge will be held in the assembly room of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce late this afternoon.

O. E. Hotie, who has returned from the East, will be present to address the meeting. During his trip he visited Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Cleveland, where he held conferences with the engineers of the United States War Department and also others interested in the bridge. He has collected a mass of data relating to tunnels, as well as other information bearing directly on the bridge.

Fortune Made With Mice and Guinea Pigs

AMBLER, Pa., Aug. 8.—"I would not exchange my business for the best farm in three counties," is a recent statement attributed to Isaac J. Sheppard of Broad Ave., near here. Sheppard is 70, the proprietor of a business in raising guinea pigs and white mice. His products, used largely in medical and surgical investigations, are in big demand and he gets good prices.

Who's Laughing Mask? Mystery No Longer

Several hundred dollars, sixteen silk hats and a few other things changed hands yesterday, all because Oaklanders insisted on guessing "who the laughing mask is." The laughing mask is a mystery no longer—he has taken off his mask and married the heroine, and will probably live happily ever after. Manager Harry Cornell of the Pantages theater is dodging several hundred theatergoers who laid wagers on the identity of the mystery man, and now seeking his services as an arbitrator.

"The laughing mask," the mystery character in "The Iron Claw," sensational photo play serial shown at the Pantages for the past twenty weeks, has created more comment in Oakland than anything of the nature ever offered. Wagers as to the identity of the character were many, there

Cyclist Hits Woman Then Rides Away

The police are today looking for a man who last night told Mrs. Mary O'Brien, 905 Alice street, that he was too poor to care for her after he had collided with her on his bicycle, thrown her to the street at Tenth and Webster streets, and caused the bones of her left arm to be fractured. Mrs. O'Brien asked the stranger to escort her to the Emergency Hospital, whereupon, she says, he jumped upon his bicycle and rode away.

HERE TO BEG ANGRY DAD FOR BRIDE

Seattle Groom, Thrashed by Wife's Father, Follows Admiral Schley in Railroad
Dash to Wharf Greeting

Harry Barron to Make Plea for Pretty Spouse Whose Father
Invaded Apartment and Wrecked Northern Romance

Racing by rail from Seattle, Harry Barron has arrived in Oakland before his father-in-law, William O'Neill, an insurance man of this city, who is coming by water, and is preparing to meet him at the quay with a plea for the return of his wife and a threat that he will invoke the aid of the law if she is not allowed to return to him.

O'Neill and Mrs. Barron are expected today on the steamer Admiral Schley, which arrived outside the docks last night but failed to enter the Golden Gate on account of the heavy fog.

INVADES APARTMENT.
Barron is still smarting from a beating which he says his father-in-law inflicted upon him in the north wharf he broke into the quiet little apartments in which the bride and groom were spending their first weeks of married life and carried off the bride.

According to dispatches from Seattle and Portland, he eloped with Miss O'Neill from Oakland last July. The marriage took place July 10 at Aberdeen, Wash.

For a time they enjoyed a blissful honeymoon, according to Seattle advices. Then O'Neill learned where they were and came north. He found his daughter and his son-in-law living in apartments in state Tacoma. The young couple started to beg forgiveness, but O'Neill would not listen.

BEAT BRIDEGRROOM.
O'Neill is said to have stripped a ring from the finger of Barron, declaring it to be his property. Next he gave Barron a beating, and then he forcibly rushed his daughter out and aboard the steamer Admiral Schley. The Seattle account says Barron obtained a warrant for O'Neill on a charge of kidnapping, but it was not served.

Man With Vision Keeps It Secret

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—If Andrew Weir, millionaire oil and shipping man, is interested in the reported plan to merge the Union Oil Company, California, with Standard Oil and other companies into an organization that will be as great as the Standard Oil Company, he prefers to keep the information to himself. All reports to the contrary, however, or a denial have been in vain.

Weir is interested in the Union Oil Company, which, it is reported, is included in the gigantic deal. E. L. Doheny, president of the California Petroleum Company, says he is perfecting plans for a $150,000,000 capitalization. Weir is here for a few days. He has made immense profits from his shipping since the beginning of the European war and has been chosen a director of Lloyd's bank, one of the world's largest institutions.

Fall From Electric Pole Causes Injury

Fred Meirs, an electrician, of 1454 Carolina street, Alameda, who was working from a forty-foot platform at the Union Iron Works when his hand came in contact with a live wire, is being cared for at Merritt hospital this morning, where he was taken following the accident. Meirs is suffering from a broken collarbone, several lacerations around the head, neck and shoulders and bad bruises about the body. Surprise is expressed that he did not receive more severe injuries, as the shock of the electric current and the fall of forty feet might have caused death.

SHAD IN DEMAND.
The shad of California, practically neglected by residents of this state, is in steadily growing demand by epicures of the East. During the season just closed there was shipped from the shores of Suisun bay sixty-eight carloads of fresh shad and as many more of the canned fish. The shipments were forwarded by express originating on the line of the Oakland Antioch and Eastern Railway, and the shad were consigned to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other Atlantic Coast points. A canning establishment near Pittsburg is making preparations to double its output next season.

AUTHORIZE O. AND E. LOAN.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The railroad commission today issued an order authorizing the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railway to issue promissory notes for a total of $189,017.45 and to pledge bonds as collateral.

Church Work Is 'Sissified' So Declares Secretary of Missions

BERKELEY, Aug. 8.—"We need red blood in the pulpit in order to attract red blood to the pew," said Rev. Hester P. Fuller, secretary of the board of home missions of the Presbyterian church, in an address to several hundred men at the First Presbyterian church of Berkeley last night, under the auspices of the local brotherhood.

"We have sissified the work of the church," he declared. "Outline a program that will give a man a man's job and men will respond. Our church members are overworked. I would preach one sermon in the church on Sunday and then I would take a bunch of men like you and hold the other service on the street corner. That might not appear dignified, but the church is dying of dignity."

Fuller is in Oakland and San Francisco to promote a forward movement for the Presbyterian church in the home mission churches on both sides of the bay and has held conferences with many pastors.

"The board of home missions is prepared to pour money into California," he said. "It is in building up these weak churches."

YOUNG BATHER SAVED BY GUARD

Snatched From Drowning, but
Is in Serious Condition
From Dive.

Carroll Young, 18 years old, son of C. Hilary Young, 677 Bismarck street, is the point of death in the Fabiola Hospital today following an accident in the Piedmont Baths, Twenty-fourth street and Oakland avenue, last night, when he was saved from death by drowning by Richard Dungan, life guard. Young is suffering from a possible fracture of the skull.

The accident occurred shortly before 10 o'clock when the boy dove and in some manner failed to protect himself when his body struck the water. He dove sharply to the cement-covered bottom of the swimming tank.

He was rendered unconscious. Dungan, patrolling the tank, which is built around the point of death in the Fabiola Hospital, caught sight of Young's unconscious body lying at the bottom of the pool. He dove and brought the senseless form to the surface. First aid was administered and Young was with difficulty resuscitated. He had been below the surface of the water for several minutes, and it was half an hour before he regained consciousness, after a number of bath attendants had worked over him.

He was then removed to the hospital, where a physician was called to attend. The extent of his head injuries has not yet been determined, and he is today pronounced in a precarious condition.

Suit Discloses New Freight Line Plan

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Well-guarded plans for the establishment of a freight and passenger and freight steamer service from San Francisco came to light today in a suit filed by Ernest Schraubstedter against the North German Lloyd Steamship Company. The plaintiff asks $45,000 compensation for failure of the company to deliver the steamers Willehad and Wittekind, intended for Boston, after he had completed deals for their purchase by San Francisco capitalists.

Schraubstedter refused to give details, saying these would be brought out during trial of the case. There is no hint as to the identity of the men who had arranged to pay $450,000 each for the vessels.

Allen's Foot-Ease For the Troops

Many war zone hospitals have ordered Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder, for use among the troops. Shaken into the shoes and used in the foot-bath, Allen's Foot-Ease gives rest and comfort, takes the friction from the shoe, and prevents the feet from getting hot, sore, and chafed. Allen's Foot-Ease is sold in all drug and department stores everywhere. Don't accept any substitute. Try it today.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Get out on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off, a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in your hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air. Breathe deeply, and get from Dr. Dept. Kab's Broadway, San Pablo and Sixteenth street, or any drugist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.—Advertisement.

REDMEN MEET IN COUNCIL IN EUREKA

Daughters of Pocahontas Also Hold Session in Humboldt County City.

EUREKA, Aug. 8.—Daughters of Pocahontas, the wise chief and strong hunters of the Tribe of Powhatan are assembled here today from many parts of California for the annual great councils of the Improved Order of Redmen and the Daughters of Pocahontas. The great council sessions are to extend over four days, with much time allotted for entertainment and sight-seeing. Drill teams from San Francisco, Santa Rosa, Stockton and Vallejo will compete tomorrow and Thursday evenings for cash prizes totaling $250.

Great Pocahontas Lorena O'Neill and Great Sachem John M. Heron will preside Thursday evening over the reception and dinners of the past masters of their orders.

U. C. Men Return From Trip to Mt. Whitney

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 8.—Server Kaar, Thomas Nelson and Paul Packard, University of California students, and Clarence Cullimore, California alumni and member of the Kern county Union High School faculty, have returned from a two month trip to Mount Whitney. They traveled 600 miles and were in the snow for the first month, after passing Kernville, sixty miles northeast of Bakersfield, July 28, the day they arrived at the peak of Mount Whitney, the thermometer registered 10 degrees below freezing point at midday.

The party used four riding animals and four pack mules. Cullimore took 200 pictures of the scenery en route.

Kolb, Comedian, in Auto Accident

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—Clarence W. Kolb, the comedian of Kolb and Dill, had a narrow escape from death last night when, accompanied by a young lady, who gave the name of Miss May Cloy, he backed his automobile out from the curb at Fourth and Spring in front of a street car that dragged the machine and its occupants about thirty feet.

The machine in which Kolb faced death is a Fiat racing car valued at $7000, given to him about six months ago by Dave Joyce, the Chicago millionaire, who was then on visit to the coast. The auto was but slightly damaged, but the front of the street car was caved in.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Lincoln B. Palmer, manager of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, said today that although private and government laboratories had been seeking for years to find a suitable substitute for wood pulp in the manufacture of paper, nothing had as yet been produced that would stand the test.

"If the Germans have solved the problem," he said, "they will have rendered the United States a valuable service, and it ought to bring millions to the inventor of the process."

German Discovery
May Aid Paper Users

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—The royal material testing station at Gross-Lichterfelde, a suburb of Berlin, announces the interesting discovery that paper can be manufactured from cotton stalks. The discovery is not considered of much importance for Germany, which produces no cotton, but is pointed to as of vast importance to the United States, the greatest producer of cotton in the world, because of the shortage of paper reported in that country.

Golden Spike Celebration

Utah Plans to Observe Anniversary of Great Railroad Event.

OGDEN, Utah, Aug. 8.—Driving of the golden spike here on May 10, 1869, which marked the completion of the first transcontinental railway, is to be celebrated here in 1919. It is to be known as the "Golden Wedding" of transcontinental railway transportation. The celebration will be unique in the history of American progress. Most of the Western states, particularly Utah and California, are to take part.

The celebration, for which plans are already well under way, is to take the form of a transportation and industrial exposition. A part of the plan is to have all the states west of the Mississippi take part in the transportation feature and to have all methods, modern and ancient, represented. Plans are being outlined to have a handcar race across from Omaha to Ogden, a distance of 1000 miles, in which oxen, horse-drawn vehicles, automobiles, steam engines and flying machines are to participate.

Another proposed feature will be to stage one of the greatest frontier days exhibits ever brought together in the West. All the grazing states are asked to contribute to this part of the celebration. It is understood that already many of the best riders and steer ropers have signified their intention of taking part.

SMITH TELLS REASONS FOR VOTING LEASE

Statement Is Issued by Interests Which Seek to Develop Shore-Line in Return for Rights Given by City

F. M. Smith and associates have issued the following statement in order that the people may thoroughly understand the issues to be voted on at the coming election:

To the People of Oakland—On Tuesday, August 22, you will be given an opportunity to express yourselves on a purely business proposition that will enable the city, by charter amendment, to arrange, after election, a lease of submerged land lying back of the western waterfront, in return for which the lessee will develop Oakland harbor, and in addition, will improve the city's land to be leased.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding in regard to the proposition the following salient points are given:

The election does not make a lease. The election is to confirm the right of the city to make a lease.

The election does not obligate the city to make a lease.

The lease is to be made AFTER the election and subject to the following conditions and such others as may be prescribed by the city to fully safeguard its interests.

The lessee to expend at least $5,000,000 in developing the city's waterfront, the work to commence immediately and to be completed within six years; $1,000,000 to be expended within the first two years, and $1,000,000 each year thereafter.

The western waterfront and a wide street back of it to remain under control and management of the city.

The city is to collect and retain all tolls and dock charges.

The lease to include only the 233 acres of land, now covered with water, lying back of the western waterfront and street.

METHOD OF EXPENDITURE. The lessee to expend $1,500,000 in the direction of the city in the construction of modern wharves and wharves, dredging the harbor and filling in the city's land.

The lessee to expend $3,500,000 in the construction of modern wharves, docks, etc., on the 233 acres of the city's leased land lying back of the western waterfront. The lessee to provide railway terminals, available to all Broadway and equal.

All improvements to revert to the city on termination of the lease. These improvements on city land will give this business district docks necessary to attract shipping.

The lease to be awarded to the highest bidder after being advertised. The carrying out of the various conditions and agreements of the lease to be guaranteed by a good and sufficient bond to be approved by the city.

The foregoing is in accordance with our proposal dated May 15, 1915, and July 10, 1916, on file with the city clerk. Additional terms and details of the lease will be subject to discussion after the election. They can be worked out by a committee of representative citizens, in conjunction with the city. In order to be a success this proposition must be fair both to the city and to the people who will furnish the money.

POINT OUT CITY'S GAIN. What will Oakland gain by grasping this opportunity?

A modern, up-to-date, deep water harbor NOW instead of at some indefinite time in the future.

A great industrial center, where rail and water meet and where thousands will find employment.

A large increase in commerce and industrial activity.

A much desired improvement of general business conditions throughout the city.

These and many more advantages, including development of adjoining land, will be gained by Oakland without the expenditure of one cent by the taxpayers.

Remember, when you vote in favor of this charter change you do not vote to give away any part of the waterfront, nor to increase your taxes, nor to make a lease, but simply to enable the city, after election, to lease a specific piece of land, not the waterfront, for a longer period than is now allowed by the charter.

Respectfully,
(Signed) F. M. SMITH AND ASSOCIATES.

Female Form, Municipal Woe

Two Cities Confronted by Undraped Problem

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—A bevy of young women, clad in a coat of tan and a sailor's cap, burst into the early morning air today and jumped into the lake along the north shore, establishing the limit for nudity among women bathers.

Police Chief Healy, already surfeited with reports of women bathing clad only in kimono, scanty trunks or water wings, announced the limit had been reached.

His orders to patrolmen were: "Run 'em in. And if they haven't got anything on to wear to the station, that's their affair."

Venus arising out of the sea would have looked over-clothed beside the young goddesses, North Shore residents reported.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 8.—When city officials a few weeks ago raised the embargo on beauty and announced that fair bathers would be allowed to promenade from hotels to beach in bathing costumes, they started something they had to stop.

Fair nymphs with undraped knees and ultra-low neck bathing suits took advantage of this concession to promenade the boardwalk and all the other attractions began to lose money. Today policemen were instructed to shoo the too lightly clad back to the beach.

Rabbi Coffee, Oakland Boy, to Be Heard Here

Rabbi Rudolph I. Coffee of Chicago will occupy the pulpit at Temple Sinai, Twenty-eighth and Webster streets, Friday at 8 p. m. Rabbi Coffee is a native of Oakland, having graduated from the Oakland High school. He has achieved remarkable success in Pittsburgh, Chicago and New York City. As an orator his fame has spread throughout the United States.

Miss Margaret Bradley Elliot will preside over the musical program which has been specially prepared for this occasion. Preparations have been made for a large attendance and the public has been cordially invited to attend.

Bill to Open Lands to Entry Is Passed

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 8.—Surveyor General Kingsbury wired his office today from Washington, D. C., that House bill No. 1096, which would throw open to entry 220,000 acres of new lands in California to 2100 settlers, some of whom have waited twenty years for title, has passed the House. The lands have been closed to entry for various reasons. They average in value from $5 to $20 an acre and are located in forty-five different counties. Kingsbury will stay in Washington until the bill is given final approval and signed.

Guaranteed The Standard Oil Company stands squarely behind Zerolene and guarantees it the best automobile oil they know how to make.

What will Oakland gain by grasping this opportunity?

A modern, up-to-date, deep water harbor NOW instead of at some indefinite time in the future.

A great industrial center, where rail and water meet and where thousands will find employment.

A large increase in commerce and industrial activity.

A much desired improvement of general business conditions throughout the city.

These and many more advantages, including development of adjoining land, will be gained by Oakland without the expenditure of one cent by the taxpayers.

Remember, when you vote in favor of this charter change you do not vote to give away any part of the waterfront, nor to increase your taxes, nor to make a lease, but simply to enable the city, after election, to lease a specific piece of land, not the waterfront, for a longer period than is now allowed by the charter.

Funeral of Pioneer to Be Held Tomorrow

PACIFIC GROVE, Aug. 8.—The funeral of Henry Seymour Ball, former mayor of Salinas, and for forty years prominent in business and politics in Monterey county, who died last night at his home here, will take place tomorrow afternoon at Salinas, under the auspices of the Masons. Aleville Commandery of Knights Templar will escort the body to the grave.

Ball had lived in California since 1850. He was born March 10, 1830, in Chautauque county, New York, and came from a long line of American ancestors. The founder of his family in America was William Ball, from whom George Washington Ball, who was descended on his mother's side.

For a time after coming to this state, Ball mined at Hangtown, now Placerville. Later he engaged in freighting at Sacramento, and then was a horticulturist in Shasta county. He came to Monterey county in 1868 and engaged in farming in Salinas Valley. He was mayor of Salinas thirteen years. In 1891 he gave up active business, and for the past few years had lived at Pacific Grove.

Why Suffer From Migraine or Sick Headache? at your Hotel Oakland

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease, which you do not believe, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo the periodic attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two anti-hemina tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one after the second attack every two hours during the attack shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and quiet. Anti-hemina tablets may be obtained at all drug stores. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all Pain.

PARC CALLS FOR COIN TO MEET FUNDS

Berkeley's First Budget Estimate Reaches a Total of $551,383, Which Is About $9000 Over Money in Sight

Income for Fiscal Year Computed to Be $450,000 From Real Estate and Remainder From Other Minor Sources

BERKELEY, Aug. 8.—The city of Berkeley will spend $551,383 in maintaining the city government and improving the property of the municipality during the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1917, according to a rough draft of the budget which has been completed. The draft copy of the budget shows that the estimated expenditures will amount to $551,383, while the estimated income is $450,000. The estimate will undergo a final pruning before the budget is adopted to bring the expenditures within the income. New sewers in Shattuck avenue and in Hopkins street call for an expenditure of $16,000 which is the largest item in the outlay classification. A new corporation yard will cost $11,500. The various commissions are provided for in the budget. The civic art commission receives $2000, parks $11,200, playgrounds, $13,228 and charity, $11,200. The estimates of the various branches of the city government are as follows: Clerk $4318, attorney $6016, mayor $3364, commissioner of finance and revenue $1327, commissioner of public works $1376, commissioner of public health $1827, commissioner of public supplies $212, assessor $3018, treasurer $700, auditor $4814, city hall $3675, engineer $12,493, inspection $6800, justice, $4000, police $43,435, fire $113,595, pound $2580, street $150,000, outlays: Shattuck avenue storm sewer $6000, Hopkins street storm sewer $16,000, station way paving $1000, Durant avenue firehouse asphalt $3000, Walnut street, Berryman north $13000, new corporation yard $11,500, Live Oak installations $17,700, San Pablo and University paving $7000, total outlays $454,700. Health $14,625, garbage $8500, elections $15,000, miscellaneous $5000, charity $11,521, schools $7220, parks $15,550, justice $4000, $2467, playgrounds $13,228, compensation fund $4400, cash basis $11,000. Total $551,383. The following is an estimate of income for fiscal year, 1916-1917: Taxes—Real estate $450,000, personal $20,000, redemption $10,000, licenses $15,000, permits $10,000, electric $2000, plumbing $1000, fines $2000, pound $500, miscellaneous $1000, franchises $7500, $1500, commercial $5000, telephone $5000, interest $1500, commercial revenue: highways $2000, engineering $2000, justice $500, wharf $1000. Total $542,800.

Lamson Girl Is Now a Memory

Civil Law Mute to Pastor's Plea

GERTRUDE LAMSON, WHO IS CENTER OF BATTLE RAGED FOR HER POSSESSION.

Effort to Have Child Returned to Parents Fails, as Court Disregards Mosaic Law

CHICO, Aug. 8.—The impotency of the canon law in the civil community, of ecclesiasticism in an age of modernism, is being tragically illustrated here in the futile quest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lamson for their secret daughter Gertrude, the 16-year-old daughter of Madison Slaughter, former minister of this place, who is now, following two sensational trials, serving a sentence in San Quentin penitentiary for his crimes against a trusting child of his flock. So far, in spite of the thundering emphasis of his demands for the custody of the girl, his citation of dogma and appeal to principles of the Mosaic law, the statutes of the law courts, first in precedence in the land, have thwarted all efforts of Rev. D. H. Smith of the Methodist Episcopal Church to force any surrender from the members of the County Probation Committee. Probation Officer C. S. Cline or the judge of the Juvenile Court. Gertrude Lamson is no more. Her very name is changed. Her whole outlook on the world is new. Madison Slaughter, twelve neighbors, sitting as a jury, believed her confession and convicted Madison Slaughter of the greatest crime in the catalogue.

HOLDS PARENTS UNFIT.
Then the law decreed that her parents were unfit to guide her. Her name and ways of spiritual progress and, with a word from the tribunal, the tie between parents and daughter were severed. Gertrude Lamson, according to Charles

WORLD WAR AS RELIGIOUS CRISIS

Pastor Holds Up Conflict as Moment for Searching of Hearts.

BERKELEY, Aug. 8.—That the church is given the greatest opportunity in history by the present international conflict, is the opinion of Dr. Claborn M. Hill, D. D., president of the Berkeley divinity school who is filling the pulpit of the First Baptist church temporarily. "The world is experiencing a new sense of sin and moral weakness," said Dr. Hill. "Our world has come to think too highly of itself, too self-righteous. Many of our thinkers and teachers were tired of glorifying human nature. So much of the time they and their disciples and so many impulses and tendencies to goodness that man seemed to need but little more than a little more culture to make him as God. We know now that the most highly educated those who are recognized leaders of men, are capable of being carried away from their moorings and vent out on the sea of human passion. We know now that selfishness which is the essence of sin, still determines the attitude of men and too often the fate of nations. "The world is experiencing a new sense of the need of God. In France so long the home of the world's culture, the people are turning to the churches. So it is in Germany. Russia, the land of the future, is in the trenches at the front and at the drill camps of the recruits, there has been shown the greatest interest in religion. In this crisis men are feeling the need of God."

WILL ENTERTAIN.
Past Presidents' Association, No. 2, N. D. Daughters, will hold a whist tournament Thursday afternoon, in Custer Hall, on Webster street, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, at 2 o'clock. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Lillian Murden, assisted by Josephine Irwin, Addie Mosher, Carrie Hall and Jennie Jordan.

J. Jones, deputy attorney general, is not being retried by the state. The defendant is under the guardianship of the State of California.

"During the trial at Oroville," said Jones, "and to her friends around her at that time, she professed herself to be a girl of such fine natural character that it would seem a calamity if the authorities of the law did not use every possible effort to her a fair start in life such as every child of good disposition is naturally entitled to."

MINISTER FIGHTING.
Rev. Smith refused to say, when he returned from San Francisco Saturday night, whether or not he had taken any steps in his fight to have the Butte county probation officer forced to allow Mr. and Mrs. Lamson to see their daughter. Smith intimated, however, that he still is in the fight to have the probation officer disclosed to the parents the whereabouts of Gertrude, who has been placed in a new home and given a new name. Rev. Smith has been active, since the announcement was made that a new home had been found for Gertrude, in a fight to have the parents of the girl notified where she is. Probation Officer Cline has steadily refused to disclose to anyone the new name and whereabouts of his ward. Rev. Smith terms Cline's actions "an outrage."

Not even the district attorney's office knows where the girl is. BACKED BY COMMITTEE.
The county probation committee has backed up, in a strong resolution, the action of Probation Officer Cline in withholding the new name and information regarding the whereabouts of the girl. The committee spent considerable time discussing the activity of Rev. Smith and his threats that there would be "something doing" if the girl's parents were not permitted to see her. "It is high time that Gertrude Lamson be left alone," was the sentiment of the probation committee, the unanimous opinion being that Mr. and Mrs. Lamson, by their attitude toward their daughter in her hour of need, forfeited any right to consideration.

The Slaughter trial was briefly reviewed, emphasis being laid upon Mrs. Lamson's testimony, which contradicted her daughter's entire story and almost all of which was intended to discredit the girl. The discussion also brought out the fact that one of the chief reasons for keeping secret the girl's name and residence of the girl was to prevent any attempt being made to induce her to withdraw from the state penitentiary. With that could be done in an attempt to win freedom for Slaughter.

HUTCHINSON IS BACK AT U. C.

Commercial Attache Returns From Two Years in Brazil.

BERKELEY, Aug. 8.—Professor Lincoln Hutchinson has returned to the University of California from two years of service for the United States in South America, where he has been the first person to hold the position of commercial attache for Brazil. He was one of the first appointed when 12 such positions in the government service were established, as commercial attaches accredited to various great countries of the world, in the desire to foster and develop the international trade of the United States. Professor Hutchinson has resigned from his distinguished official position to return to the faculty of the University of California, where he has become a professor of commerce on the Flood Foundation.

Professor Hutchinson has had unique facilities to acquaint himself with the opportunities for American trade, American capital, and the American engineer in South America, not only through his work as commercial attache for Brazil, but through earlier visits to South America as an economic investigator for the United States government. He has traveled widely in Latin America and has spent a year in London, in economic research. His published recent volume on the influence which the Panama canal will have on the future of the world, which he is widely known as an authority in the scientific study of commerce.

To Bring Bunko Suspect Back Here

BERKELEY, Aug. 8.—Detective Sergeant A. S. J. Woods, of the Berkeley police department, will leave tonight for Reno, Nev., to bring to Berkeley Arthur De Gracia, arrested by the Reno authorities yesterday on a federal warrant charging him with complicity in fleeing Pete Zori, a Butte, Mont., miner, of $3300 on the University of California campus June 23. Zori had received $4000 for injuries sustained in a mine accident in Butte and came to Oakland, where he met De Gracia and another Italian who were looking for an honest man to distribute a large sum of money to the poor. The negotiations were conducted in the shadow of the Campanile and the next day Zori reported the matter to the police.

Lincoln School Is to Have New Fund

ALAMEDA, Aug. 8.—The board of education will hold a meeting this evening to consider immediate action in connection with the new Lincoln school, which has been authorized by the board to construct the building as originally planned by the architects. It was decided to advertise for bids for the last set of bids were rejected when it became apparent that they were many thousands of dollars in excess of the estimated figure. The architects have advised the board of education that the additional $30,000 will cover the increased cost of building and permit the construction of the classrooms and executive offices.

Well-Known Civil Engineer Dies

BERKELEY, Aug. 8.—George A. Stone, 67 years of age, a civil engineer, formerly in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company, died at his home, 2625 Virginia street, this morning after an illness of several weeks. Stone came to California sixty-one years ago and since then his majority has been employed by the Southern Pacific Company. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Marion R. Stone, two sons, Philip N. and John C. Stone, and Mrs. W. V. Jahant and Mrs. Robert Shiley, all of Berkeley. The funeral will be private.

Second Bank to Open in West End

ALAMEDA, Aug. 8.—The Citizens Savings Bank announces the adoption of plans for its Webster street branch bank to be erected at the northern corner of Webster street and Haight avenue. The announcement states that construction would begin at once. When the new bank is open the West End will be equipped with two banks, the Alameda branch having been opened a West End branch several months ago and is already doing a flourishing business with patrons in the western portion of the city.

Veteran Employee of Bank Is Summoned

BERKELEY, Aug. 8.—The funeral of John Forbes Kavanagh, who died Sunday at an Oakland sanitarium, was held this afternoon from his late residence, 1623 University avenue. Kavanagh was a native of San Francisco, and 50 years old. He had been in the employ of the Nevada Bank for 33 years. At the time of his death he was paying teller of the institution.

Nurse Who Took Poison Will Live

SAN JOSE, Aug. 8.—Miss Cecilia Crowley, a nurse who struck Dr. J. J. Cavagnaro on the head with a seltzer bottle and then attempted suicide by swallowing poison, will recover, according to her physician, Dr. J. J. Cavagnaro. He says he will not prosecute the girl, who claims to be a cousin of the late Patrick J. Crowley, who was chief of police of San Francisco for twenty years.

TO HOLD NO INQUEST.
ALAMEDA, Aug. 8.—There will be no coroner's inquest in the case of Elizabeth Merrill, of 1411 High street, who was found dead in the yard of her home last week. Dr. J. P. Triffitt, the autopsy surgeon for the coroner, performed an autopsy and signed the death certificate, giving pulmonary tuberculosis and fatty degeneration of the heart as the cause of death. Mrs. Merrill was found in the yard by her husband, G. E. Merrill.

CHURCH WILL MORTGAGE.
Permission was granted St. John's Presbyterian Church of Berkeley by Judge William H. Waste this morning to mortgage real property to the Oakland Bank of Savings for $16,500 for two years. The property involved is located at College avenue and Derby street.

SIGN PAVING CONTRACT.
ALAMEDA, Aug. 8.—The contract for the Central avenue paving job was signed yesterday. Construction work will start this week. H. G. Hunsinger, superintendent for the Clark, Henry Co., is already located in Alameda with his family and will have charge of the work.

Disagree Over Stephens' Place

Treasurer Would Pay Governor's Salary

Quite a difference of opinion has sprung up as to just what position V. D. Stephens, recently appointed Lieutenant-Governor, would occupy should Governor Johnson resign after the August primary or upon being elected to the Senate. The Attorney-General, in his opinion, said Stephens would remain Lieutenant-Governor with the powers and duties of the Governor's office devolving upon him. However, the opinion stated, Stephens would not have the right to appoint a Lieutenant-Governor. As to the salary, the opinion was silent. Friend W. Richardson, State Treasurer, refuses to remain silent and forthwith furnishes the legal opinion which the Attorney-General neglected to render. He declared that Stephens would have a legal right to appoint a Lieutenant-Governor. Anyway, the State Treasurer has decided, in case of Johnson's resignation, to pay the Governor's salary of $333 a month to Stephens instead of the Lieutenant-Governor's salary of $333.

Richardson says: "If Governor Johnson is elected Senator, Stephens will become Governor, in my opinion, with all the power, duties and emoluments of the office."

Test Suit to Stop Picketing Is Filed

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The law and order committee of the Chamber of Commerce has filed its promised measure of retaliation today when Attorneys Metson, Drew and Mackenzie applied for an injunction to restrain picketing on operating in front of the Hot Brau cafe, Market street, last Saturday. The action was filed in the Superior court and is to serve as a precedent for an attack on picketing all over the city.

GRAND JURY HAS MORE EVIDENCE

County Body Considers Further Subject of School Board's Charges.

With the members of the County Board of Education standing firm in their attitude that they have committed no violation of the law in the methods followed in collecting $5 per diem for meetings which it is alleged, they did not attend, the grand jury is in session this afternoon, presumably considering the evidence placed before it by District Attorney W. H. L. Eynes. Whether or not individuals will be returned against the individual members of the board is a matter of conjecture. Superintendent of Schools George W. Frick had no statement to make this morning, pertaining to the situation. "This board has done the same as other boards in the state in the conduct of its meetings," he said. "There has been no intent to violate the statutes or to act in any way detrimental to the interests of the county."

SEEKS HIS WIFE.
Manuel Gomez asked the police today to find his wife, Alice Gomez, 18 years old, who left her home, at 33 East Fourteenth street last Saturday night and has not been seen since. Gomez says that some money and jewelry belonging to him disappeared with his wife, who said she was going to a motion picture theater when she left home.

TO PRESENT FLAG POLE.
Members of the Santa Fe Improvement Club today asked the city council for permission to present the city with a flag pole, to be erected in a public park at Market, Alleen and Adeline streets. The request was referred to the board of park directors.

COLLEGE MAN DISAPPEARS; MOTHER ILL

His Health Shattered by Overwork, Stanford Student Suffers Breakdown and Wanders Away From His Home

Suffering a mental breakdown through overwork in his studies at Stanford University, Ray L. Quinn, 2708 Keith avenue, has disappeared. Search is being made at the request of his mother, Mrs. Abbie W. Quinn, who is ill at the Keith avenue home, prostrated over the disappearance of her son.

Young Quinn wandered from his home last evening. His mother and sister, realizing his mental condition, immediately sought the aid of friends to assist in making a search. They scoured the neighborhood in search of the youth, but without avail.

Young Quinn has been attending Stanford University for several semesters, and suffered a mental breakdown at the end of the last term when he studied hard for his examinations. He has been at the home of his mother since that time, under treatment. His mother fears that he may meet with injury of some kind, and every effort is being made to find the college man.

Woman's Mind Blank for Day Missing Wife Is Discovered

MRS. EDWARD MCCORMACK.

Knows Little of Se- quel to Strange Accident

After the Oakland police had sought Mrs. Clara McCormack for forty-eight hours, Edward McCormack Jr., her husband, stepped around the corner from his home at 314 Meade avenue last night and found her at the residence of an aunt. She told him a strange story of mishap and adventure, whereupon McCormack told the police that his wife had returned home and the police search was stopped.

Mrs. McCormack left home early last Saturday evening, telling members of the family that she was going on a shopping tour. At 11 o'clock the same night an unknown man telephoned to McCormack, telling him that his wife had been injured in an accident and removed to a hospital. The stranger hung up before McCormack could learn further particulars from him.

McCormack spent all of Saturday night and part of Sunday in seeking the woman. She was not to be found in any of the hospitals on either side of the bay. On Sunday evening he reported the strange disappearance to the police.

Last night McCormack called on an aunt, who lives in Marker street, near Mead avenue, to tell her of Mrs. McCormack's disappearance. There he found his wife. She explained that she had been injured Saturday evening, shortly after leaving home, and had been taken into a strange home, where she remained in an unconscious condition until Sunday afternoon. She then went to the home of her relative, she said.

Mrs. McCormack was unable to tell the name of the family which had taken her in, nor could she make known the home address. The police have dropped their investigation.

Mrs. McCormack, although still somewhat hazy about the facts of her experience, believes that she was struck while walking down Grove street, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth streets. She heard no footsteps behind her before the blow fell and does not remember the address at which she recovered consciousness early Sunday morning.

When she did recover consciousness, according to her husband, the sympathetic people around the strange bedside asked her if she did not wish

SUBSIDIARIES IN WATER CO. ANSWER

Seven Join Foreclosure Suit Against Peoples for Purpose of Bond Regulation.

The affairs of the Peoples Water Company and its allied corporations will be discussed soon in the Superior court as the result of seven replies and two cross-complaints filed by Attorney A. G. Tashler, A. J. Tashler, to the foreclosure suit instituted several months ago by the Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco, holder of bonds in the water company. Other San Francisco attorneys appear in the answer from the "underlying" water companies.

The cross-complaints are filed by the San Francisco Union Trust Company and the Anglo-California Trust Company, placing these banks on a par with the Mercantile Trust Company in foreclosing on the property of the Peoples Water Company. The Mercantile Trust Company foreclosed as trustee of the Peoples Water Company, the major corporation, but the other trust companies holding securities of both the major and subsidiary corporations wished to come in on the suit and have all matters settled at once.

The corporations filing their answers include all the companies merged during the past year with the Peoples Water Company. They are the East Shore Water Company, the Oakland Water Company, the Alameda Artesian Wells Company and the Contra Costa Water Company. The Oakland Bank of Savings and the two San Francisco trust companies filed answers as representatives of stock and bondholders.

Great Dairy Burned; 90 Head of Cows Lost

STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 8.—The largest modern dairy on Roberts island, ten miles west of Stockton, owned by Fred Charles Walsh of Stockton, and located on land owned by E. W. S. Woods, was destroyed by fire early last night and morning. The fire started in the milking section and spread to the rest of the buildings, including a cooling plant, and large stacks of alfalfa were destroyed. The fire started when all of the men, save milkers, were at supper and it is supposed was caused by crossed wires, as electric milkers were in use. Nothing was saved in the model establishment and the loss is said to be above $20,000.

to have relatives notified. In her bewildered condition Mrs. McCormack believes that she answered in the negative, and in this way her family were not made aware of her whereabouts. It was after a few hours' rest in her strange shelter that she went to the house of her relative near by. An hour or two later the family had found her.

Arrange Fire Drill to Make Grass Grow

Fires are scarce at the branch station of the Oakland fire department, located at Fifty-first street and Telegraph avenue, so just to keep the men in practice a hose drill is gone through once a month. So far so good. Then

Some bright mind in the University High School thought that the same bright mind also thought the experiment station for the school, a lot at Forty-sixth and Webster streets, needed water badly in order to keep the experiments successful. With a little co-operation the University High School experiment garden lot received the needed water at the last drill of the branch station. After this the firemen will practice on the gardens and back yards of their district.

Locker Thief Works at Local Y. M. C. A.

A room and locker thief victimized two persons in the building of the Young Men's Christian Association, Twenty-first street and Telegraph avenue, last night. He stole $10 from the room of O. G. Hahner and a pair of gold cuff buttons from the locker of T. J. McCabe. A pickpocket relieved Alex Booras, 726 Twelfth street, of a gold watch last night. A suit of clothes was the lot of a thief who entered the rooms of Julius Julian, 1208 Seventh street, while a check-writing machine was stolen from the home of J. Whitehead, 522 Second street, and an oak rocker was taken from the porch of S. R. Smith, 4513 Bond street. All cases were reported to the police.

Vice Admiral of Japanese Navy Dead

TOKIO, Aug. 8.—Vice Admiral Hixondo Kanamura, of the Japanese navy is dead.

Vice Admiral Kanamura, who was 67 years old, was one of the most prominent officers in the Japanese navy. As commander-in-chief of the second squadron he played an important part in the Russo-Japanese war, and is believed to have led in the naval assault with the British squadron against the German base at Tsing-Tao, China, in 1914.

Enrollment Grows in Richmond School

RICHMOND, Aug. 8.—Richmond's public schools are open, with a record attendance, the enrollment being the largest in the history of this city. Principal Zumwalt of the Lincoln school estimated that the number exceeds that of last year by 10 students.

The ratio in the other schools is approximately the same. Superintendent of Schools W. E. Smith is aware that the enrollment is much heavier but has not yet arrived at exact figures on the attendance.

TRAFFIC COP FOR KIDNERS. At the result of Councilman Ogden's suggestion that something should be done for the protection of children on their way to school, to prevent them from being injured by passing vehicles on Macdonald avenue in the vicinity of the Tenth school, the city council and the police department plan to station an officer in that district before and after school hours.

PROTEST SHIPPING BILL. In response to a communication sent to Washington by Mayor E. J. Garrard, Senators Bayne and Phelan have written to the city council here announcing that they will fight the shipping bill to the last ditch.

The local officials protested against the bill on the ground that it would be detrimental to local shipping.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS. RICHMOND, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Mary Lucas was given a surprise party at her home on Sixteenth street by a group of friends. Games were played, refreshments served and a number of beautiful gifts presented.

CHANGE PLAN OF STREET CLEANING

Richmond City Council Dis- cusses Problem and Attends to Other Business.

RICHMOND, Aug. 8.—Although the matter of cleaning the city streets was referred to the superintendent of streets for one week after a lengthy discussion of the subject last night between members of the city council, it is generally understood that the work will not be done by contract as heretofore.

Councilman W. L. Lane made a strong talk advocating the street department work as a sort of pensioning system for men who could not well earn a livelihood in any other manner. Mayor Garrard shared this view, as did Councilman Gerlach. The latter thought that something must be done to cut down the appropriation for the work and this opinion seemed to be renewed with the members of the council.

City council canvassed the election returns for the selection of a board of freeholders to frame a new charter for the city of Richmond and decided the 15 having the largest number of votes elected.

A resolution of intention was adopted

CITY TO PROVIDE CAMPING GROUNDS

Auto Tourists Will Be Given Welcome and Free Ac- commodations.

Steps are being taken by the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council to establish a free camping spot near the city limits for automobile tourists. Several sites have been considered, but each has been too far out, according to Joseph Caine, secretary of the chamber.

When a location is found the city will be asked to install plumbing and sanitary necessities and the Chamber of Commerce will keep the place in condition. It is thought a place will be found just inside the city limits.

While the committees are looking for a site, representatives of the Lincoln highway, acting with the city, are placing highway signs from the city limits to the foot of Broadway. The work began yesterday and Perry Brown, city superintendent of streets, acted as supervisor of the work. H. C. Ostermann, road supervisor for the Lincoln highway, accompanied Brown.

To start the day

ONE lady whimsically says that "she would feel safer giving her husband poor steak at night than poor coffee in the morning!" We suspect that a good many others have the same feeling; it seems as if a man just naturally counts on extra good coffee to start the day with.

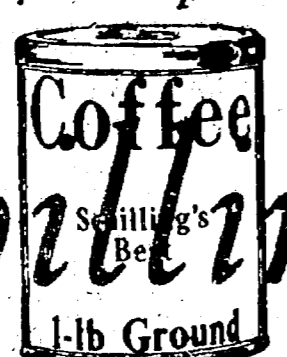

And he finds this "breakfast satisfaction" in the rich smooth flavor of Schilling's; Schilling's is a better-than-good coffee—it is truly fine.

It is freed of chaff, ground evenly, then—of course—sent to you vacuum-sealed in air-tight tins, for such tins give the only satisfactory protection. All this does not make Schilling's extravagant; the reverse—every particle is so rich with flavor that you will use one-third to one-quarter less per cup. It's really economical, although the price by the pound is not low.

Sold only in vacuum-sealed tins through grocers.

40 cents a pound.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1916.

AFTER THE PRIMARY, WHAT?

For having his name placed on the Republican primary ballot and in seeking the Republican nomination for United States Senator, Governor Johnson confesses to only one qualification for that honor at the hands of the party: he makes the claim that he is supporting Mr. Charles E. Hughes for the Presidency. To his mind the voicing of this claim makes it proper for him to ask the rank and file of the Republican party to vote for him in his own campaign.

Against this virtue Governor Johnson asks, with apparent seriousness, the voters to forget that he disfranchised them in 1912, that he has done everything in his great power to wreck and destroy the party, that he is now publicly declaring that he is not a Republican, that he adheres to an entirely different political doctrine than that of Republicanism; that he is registered as belonging to another party and is the sole nominee of that party for the same office he asks Republicans to give him.

If the voters should forget all these offenses and disqualifications in favor of the one virtue—the Governor's diluted statement that he will support Mr. Hughes—they would still have the right, and should exercise it, to ask him these questions:

"Will you, if you are defeated for the Republican nomination at the primaries, submit to the popular choice and support the Republican nominee, whoever he may be, at the general election in November?"

"Or, if you are defeated at the Republican primary, will you continue your fight for the senatorship as the candidate of another party, and in opposition to the Republican nominee?"

"In the event you should answer this second question in the affirmative, what excuse would you give to the Republican voters, whose support you are now seeking, for dividing the opposition to the Democratic candidate and thus jeopardizing the election of a Republican to the Senatorship?"

The voters may put these questions as non-partisans, as just plain citizens who love honesty and cleanliness in politics and in official and personal conduct.

Any candidate who goes before "The People," the "folks," of one party in a direct primary asking for a nomination for office should have very definite views as to whether he will support the nominee if he be another man or whether he will head a third party with the sole intention of defeating the nominee and making the election of a Democrat possible. So the voters may confidently expect that Governor Johnson will have an answer ready for the above questions.

SPEED THE NEW BRIDGE.

September 12th has been designated by the army engineers as the date of the hearing on the proposal to remove the present two bridges over the estuary and to consider types and plans of a bridge to take their place. The engineers have agreed with the representations of the people of Oakland and Alameda that the present bridges are obstructing estuary traffic, are a menace and a handicap to navigation, and have stated that the interests of the federal government, as well as of the two municipalities, require that they be removed. The type of new bridge most fully considered by the city officials, business men and ship operators is a bascule draw bridge. The army engineers have indicated that a single swing bridge with two draw openings may be considered as an alternative. Any bridge installed, however, must have a clear height of twenty-eight feet above high tide and provide for a 200-foot opening in the main channel between piers.

The TRIBUNE believes that it is the duty of all the citizens of Oakland and Alameda to take a lively and intelligent interest in this matter. It is one of, if not quite, the most important question related to the future industrial and commercial development of the two communities. It cannot be too frequently repeated that the present bridges, by hindering navigation in the estuary, are blocking the upbuilding and expansion of business plants along both shores east of the bridges. The construction of a new bridge is imperative and actual work on it should be commenced as soon as practicable after formal permission therefor is obtained from the War Department.

Another matter of equally important consideration is the difficulties the present bridges put in the way of traffic communication between Oakland and Alameda. Existing conditions are intolerable to progressive communities and are a bar to reasonable intercourse between the two cities. A modern bascule bridge at the specified height would without having to be opened permit over seventy-five percent of the estuary shipping to pass, while the time consumed in the operation of opening and closing, when necessary, would be so brief as not to interfere with the street traffic to any appreciable extent.

When business prosperity is vitally involved the officials and residents of the two cities should not hesitate to take the needful action. In this case the requirements of the situation are obvious to every one and we trust there will be no unnecessary delay in meeting them.

THE NEW YORK STRIKE.

Of the many labor troubles that have developed throughout the country during the last few months, the strike of the New York City surface street railway employees is one of the most important active disturbances. Several thousand workmen have quit their jobs, there has been rioting and some 2,000,000 residents are greatly inconvenienced by the suspension of street railway facilities.

The principal demand of the workmen is that the street railway companies acknowledge their right to organize and treat with them as a union. Of secondary importance is the question of a wage scale, the men demanding thirty cents an hour for first-year men and thirty-two cents after one year's service.

Efforts are being made by Governor Whitman and Mayor Mitchel to settle the trouble by arbitration, but, while the wage scale seems susceptible of peaceful adjustment, the railway corporations have so far flatly refused recognition of the union. Unless some way can be discovered to solve this question of principle it is impossible to foresee the end of the strike. Officials of the companies have given out statements to the effect that the men were not really dissatisfied, but were induced to strike by agitators. On the other hand the officials of the national organization of street railway employees are supporting the striking conductors and motormen.

These conditions in New York are not ideal for the holding of the conference between the representatives of the steam railroad officials of the country and the four brotherhoods of employees. It might have been a good thing to have convened this conference in Niagara Falls, where a strictly neutral spirit prevails.

STRAINED JESTS.

Among our most simple humorists is the person who finds amusement in tedious efforts of foreigners to express themselves in English when this becomes necessary in a country where English only is spoken. The favorite subject for this style of jokester is the Japanese. We observed, however, in a contemporary the other day the publication of a letter from a Latin-American that was thought by one or two persons to be funny. Sad to relate, this communication was from a business man in South America to a San Francisco exporting firm on a business matter. Knowing that his very excellent Spanish probably would not be understood by the American firm, he tried to convey his thoughts in English. It was a very good effort, for no intelligent man would mistake his meaning. But as his English was broken and irregular it appealed to the humorous side of the recipient's mind and the letter was passed on to the newspaper for publication.

It is a fair and proper inquiry of these super-developed wags what sort of a showing as grammarians they would make, writing in the Japanese or Spanish language. Would they do any better than the victims of their festive moods have done in English? We believe not. As a matter of truth the belittling of a serious effort of a foreign visitor or correspondent publicly is not humor; it is gross discourtesy and inexcusably stupid.

IMMIGRATION AND CHILD LABOR.

(From the New York Times.)

The statement that the Immigration and Child Labor bills would be combined comes after the public has learned the meaning of logrolling through the object lessons in the pork bills. If these are bills of doubtful prospects, and perhaps of doubtful merits, when they are not in combination, those who might vote against either are expected to vote in favor of both, lest a negative vote should defeat the bill which they approve, and which cannot pass alone. When subjects so dissimilar as child labor and immigration are joined it is a demonstration that there is a motive not connected with the public interest, nor with the merits of the proposals. In this case the intention is to embarrass the President. He has invited such treatment, and was warned of the result when early in his Administration an appropriation bill was sent to him with an addition which was not germane to a money bill, being new legislation. He succumbed to the test, instead of announcing that all such proposals would invite a veto. Since then there have been few money bills without irrelevant riders. The present appropriations seek with them.

The tying together of the Child Labor and Immigration bills is a flagrant politics. The President wants the Child Labor bill and does not want the Immigration bill. Those thinking more of the campaign than of either subject, or both when they are not joined, seek to put the President in the position of signing both, or of losing both. There are prickles about either result. If the President signs the Child Labor bill he antagonizes the Southern States. They have their own child labor laws, except North Carolina, and think that the subject should be dealt with under the State rights clause of the Constitution. That embarrasses the President because he took refuge in State rights as a defense against the "votes for women" demand. Women care no more for a constitutional question than the Tunnyman statesman who thought a little thing like that ought not to come between friends. That is substantially the position of the women. Either the President must displease them or he must reverse his personal position on child labor.

NOTES and COMMENT

The student suggestion to weed out the faculty at the university summer session is what might be termed "reverse English."

Spies and dynamite abound at every vital point. They think they have seen spies on the Panama Canal, and they are afraid of the dynamite. War is a great demoralizer, indeed.

The Wyoming cattleman who shot himself when a story he told became apparent as a hoax manifested a contriteness too often lacking in perpetrators of hoaxes.

The appeal of the Berkeley mother to President Wilson for assistance in locating her kidnapped baby is a pointer as to where at least one vote can be corroded.

The woman who appeared at the Mount Diablo clubhouse in a victoria drawn by a mule, with outsiders, emulated the late Brazilian royalty. That is the way Dom Pedro traveled.

The two bridge projects are vastly important to Oakland. The bridging of the estuary, however, with a structure that will not be a bar to shipping, is of the most immediate importance.

Charles Evans Hughes opened his campaign at Detroit on Monday, and he will hit the high places of the land on his way, arriving in San Francisco in about ten days. A very hearty welcome awaits him here.

Congressman Elston says Hughes will win. There has not been any serious doubts here as to who will be elected President, but information from the inside as to the senatorship would be news.

The formation of a beefsteak club was not impeded by the cafe embargo on the other side, except possibly in part. Some of the founders came from this side, where the cooking and serving of a steak is still "regular."

The heading reads: "We Have Learned Something in Sixty Years," without particularly specifying just who has acquired the knowledge. So there will be a general show of modesty, and each will draw his own conclusions.

The peach sale at Corning for the benefit of the Belgian food fund served to illustrate the humanitarian side of the people. Just now one of the maturing products of that region peaches, and they were requisitioned to help a people that are reduced to a condition where they do not have enough to eat.

A possible complication in the Johnson-Stephens deal. Johnson holds that Stephens will have "all the prerogatives and emoluments of the office of governor" if he should succeed to the office. It is claimed that a supreme court decision is to the contrary. The doubt would appear to cut a figure in the deal, from the promptness with which the governor takes cognizance of the matter.

The important news is flashed over the country that Rockefeller laughed at the church. The minister quoted something about a hen-pecked husband. Not that Mr. Rockefeller knows anything about such things, but there was without doubt an achievement in the pulpit when he found relaxation. It is probable that he doesn't find much to laugh at in his serious world.

Now there is a proposition to form a non-intervention league as to the Mexican imbroglio. It is an innocuous issue, indeed, that does not develop opposition. There is always some body to apprehend danger or scent benefit to others in everything proposed.

It is "handed to" us by the Oroville Register in this way: "You have to hand it to that city Oakland. Its business men are the liveliest bunch of boosters north of Los Angeles, and it is an open question whether they have not got the Los Angeles backed off the boards. The latest stunt is to suggest to twenty-seven cities of the name of Oakland that they should surrender their right to that designation in favor of the California city. Of course no one imagines for a moment that any of the twenty-seven will comply, but the request has afforded an opportunity to Oakland, California, to present its advantages generally before the people of those other cities."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Stories of how the United States soldiers en route are plundered show an entire lack of patriotism. At some places where stops have been made long enough for the boys to take a little exercise or get a shave, a sandwich, a meal, or bath, 5-cent bills were held at 10 and 15 cents. Some of the men who went to hotels for a bath had to pay $2.50 for "room and bath," though they only used the room while taking the bath.—Martinez Standard.

Willis H. Booth, Republican candidate for United States Senator, is a man in the prime and vigor of life. He is a thorough and successful business man, and is not a politician. He is well known to our distinguished citizen, Captain Robert Dollar, and has his hearty support.—San Rafael Journal.

Former Progressives are working in the Republican ranks this year, not because Roosevelt asked them to, but because they find in the Republican party the best hope for the establishment of the governmental principles in which they believe. As a matter of fact, the rank and file of the former Progressives were back in the Republican party many months before Colonel Roosevelt announced the course he would pursue.—Merced Star.

Our Fresno Oracle is trying hard to make people believe that Hughes represents the Progressives and not the real Republicans.—Hanford Sentinel.

FIGURIN' IT OUT

MECCA CHALLENGES CONSTANTINOPLE:

The revolution in Arabia, the most picturesque contribution that Islam has made to the war, still spreads, according to reports from Cairo. By the capture of Yembo, the seaport of Medina, the Grand Sherief of Mecca holds the important points on the eastern coast of the Red Sea, the holy city, itself and all the large interior towns with the exception of Medina.

The central powers had calculated upon Mohammedanism as a factor in the strife. They had believed, however, that its power would be cast in their favor. With Turkey as their ally they had expected that Moslem fanaticism would be aroused against Great Britain and Russia, both of which control large Mussulman populations, and would constitute a menace to the Asiatic possessions of both of these countries.

Such propaganda as was undertaken failed of its purpose. It proved Turkey's weakness in the Moslem world; it showed that Islam had begun to question Constantinople's right to the Caliphate and would not take up arms, as it once might have done, to sustain the sultan as the head of the church. The "holy war" came; but it was a war for the holy places and for the restoration of Islam to the place of its birth.

The Grand Sherief of Mecca has already undertaken reforms that would indicate a desire to improve conditions in Arabia and also to show himself a man of modern ideas. He has begun the publication of a newspaper to present the revolutionaries' side of the struggle; he has planned for the collection of customs and taxes, and the introduction of hygienic and police regulations among the people. He seeks the unity of the important Arab tribes. This was the mission of the greatest of Mecca's sons. He succeeded and in ten years conquered the whole of the peninsula and left it to his successors. Since then no man has been able to form a lasting union among these turbulent desert people.

The glory that the chief executive of Mecca would restore to his land is that of ten centuries ago. Then men from the west studied in Arab universities and under Arab teachers, and many of the greatest scientists and investigators of the times were Arabs. Then the Crusaders carried back with them knowledge gathered from the Orient and Arabia had a literature, culture and architecture of its own. This advancement was all swept away in the dark years of Ottoman rule. Arabs say, and the people were put back to the days of the sixth century before the coming of their prophet.

Arabia lost its place among the nations of the world when it lost to the Turks its position as the head of the Moslem world. It saw, in the response of Islam to the demand for aid the weakness of the Turks in the great Moslem world, and it took advantage of the opportunity that the war gave. The Arabs' dream may never be realized, but the challenge of Mecca to Constantinople opens a fight that may last for years.—New York Sun.

THE MOON PATH.

Over the shimmering sands
The gray tides hiss and creep.
The sentinel headland stands
Guarding the writhing deep,
And waters tear at the locking lands
When the day has gone to sleep.

The mists of twilight merge;
In the shadows of the night;
Where the grumbling billows serge
Are fangs of ghastly white,
Bared in the glare of the cruel urge
Fangs of the lust of might.

The pale stars wake and gleam,
The silvered moonbeams glow;
The sea is a "droning" dream
Caresessed by winds that blow
Through the realm where wistful fancies
teem
And the heart's dim longings go.

Over the sparkling tide
A moon path stretches free,
Mythic and wide and wide
To the rim of the murmuring sea.
Like a God-lit way to the other side
While the smothering shadows flee.

White and mellowed and true,
It leads to the age-old Grail,
Fair through the wreck and rue,
Pale as our peace is pale,
Path for a soul to sail straight through
To the promise that shall not fail.

POISON IVY.

They don't pick this plant and take it home to cover brick walls; at least they don't do it more than once. It's poison ivy, and many persons have just cause to remember it well. No doubt just the picture of the ivy is enough to cause some folks to shudder and remember the time their face and body became scarlet and swollen from contact with the leaves. How it itched and burned! Yet to rub it was only to make matters worse.

A curious fact is that some persons are immune to this poison, while others aren't even breathe the pollen of the plant. It is often confounded with the Virginia creeper, although the difference between them is distinct. The leaves of the latter are divided into five leaflets, while those of the former have but three, a fact well worth remembering.

Strange enough, the witch hazel plant is sometimes found growing close to the poison ivy. As witch hazel extract is one of the best remedies for ivy poisoning, it would seem nature was holding disease in one hand and a remedy in the other.—Philadelphia North American.

THAT MILLION DOLLAR STATE BUILDING.

To the Editor of The Tribune:
The symmetrical development of the San Francisco Civic Center is halted by failure to erect the $1,000,000 state building for the occupancy of the various State commissions.

The people voted the bonds for that purpose and they were sold and are now drawing $40,000 a year interest.

But between their sale and the time to begin construction it was discovered that the increase in State commissions, or in the number of these officers and employees had made a million dollar building inadequate to hold them, without their arms and legs hanging out of the windows. This, with some rise in the cost of material, make it inexpedient to begin building, as most of our millennial State commissions are not under any limit of the number of salaried subordinates they may employ, and as political reasons clearly demand that the largest possible number go upon the payroll, it is plain that the only limit is in the housing facilities. In this emergency it is not expedient to adopt the outdoor relief system? Rumble and that outdoor relief is the great paragon of safeguard. Why not make it the political safeguard of California? Go on, and build as far as the money will go, and then provide that all of the ladies and gentlemen, especially the ladies, who are paid for millennial labor, who object to exhibiting their legs out of the windows, shall be authorized to draw their salaries at home, and appear officially on pay-day only. In this way the adornment of the Civic Center may go on and there will be no demand for standing room only by the audience of baldheads attracted by the official show.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST FISH.

Once upon a time, one million years ago, so the archaeologists say, there lived in the ocean a family of sharks so gigantic that Jonah's whale, by comparison, would be only a little larger than bait. Their gaping jaws opened as wide as garage doors, and were fully nine feet across, with an opening of more than six feet in height. When this fish dined on his sea food, his jaws crunched down with the force of a hydraulic press, and ground, with teeth one-half foot high, the hundreds of bony fishes upon which he subsisted.

This leviathan, called the Carcharodon Megalodon, is one of the latest additions to the Hall of Fossil Fishes of the American Museum of Natural History in New York. In the phosphate deposits off the coast of South Carolina, were found a number of teeth ranging in size from two to six inches, and similar in shape to those of the great white shark or man-eater. The Carcharodon, according to the conclusions of the archaeologists, was simply a man-eater, in a larger edition. The teeth, of which a vast number were found, have been arranged at the museum in the same manner as they are found in the present man-eater. Comparing the size of the teeth of the restored Carcharodon with those of the largest living shark, whose teeth are three inches high, and whose length is forty feet, it is estimated that the Carcharodon was at least eighty or ninety feet long.—The American Boy.

RILEY AND CULTURE.

A regrettable tone of superiority is discernible in some of the comments on James Whitcomb Riley as a poet. That he did very well as a dialect versifier, who handled homely themes in a sentimental way, is conceded, but it is implied that he never reached the upland of true culture.

Nevertheless it may confidently be predicted that Riley will be read when storage will no longer be given by our libraries to the effusions of the culture-lots. The human heart does not change much, and responds now as always to the old and simple virtues. Unpopularity is not proof of the value of poetry. Better fifty years of Riley than a cycle of the "new verse" or the derivative stuff that smells of books rather than of observation or of true feeling.—New York Globe.

ACCIDENT TO GEAR SINKS BREMEN

Berne Reports Fatal Mishap to Undersea Craft While Preparing for Drive Across Atlantic Past British Fleet

BERNE, Aug. 8.—The Berlin Tageblatt announces that the German submarine Bremen, which was to have arrived at an American port, has been sunk through an accident to her machinery, according to a despatch received here this afternoon.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8.—When shown the despatch from Berne stating the super-submarine Bremen, sister ship of the Deutschland, had been sunk, Henry H. Hilkens, head of the Eastern Forwarding Company, local agents of the sub-sea line here, said the report is "possibly true."

Hilkens said local agents of the under-sea line had no knowledge when the Bremen had sailed for America, nor had they received any word from her since sailing.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 8.—No further trace has been reported today of two vessels believed by the coast lookout who sighted them to be submarines, which appeared off the Maine coast near Machias yesterday. Cross Island, where the lookout was stationed, is at the mouth of the Bay of Fundy and close to British territorial waters off the provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

The possibility that one of the vessels might have been the German merchant submarine Bremen, long reported to have left a German port for the United States, aroused much interest and resulted in a close watch along the coasts of Maine and Massachusetts throughout yesterday and last night.

The Cross Island lookout estimated the speed of the boats at twelve knots. At any rate, keeping close to the three-mile limit, they would have had time to reach this port early today.

To reach Boston, following a similar course, would require eight or ten hours longer.

No Americans on Submarine Victim
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—American consuls in Italy having advised the state department that no Americans were aboard the Italian mail liner Letimbro, chased and sunk by a submarine in the Mediterranean, officials said today that no further investigation would be made. So far as this government is concerned, it was stated, the incident is closed.

Falls Helpless On Steep Trail Oakland Man is Found by Rescuers

Lost in wilds of Glenn county, Colorado, for twenty-four hours, and found when they were almost at the point of exhaustion, are experiences that Jacob Bowman, 3530 Douglas street, and Lorenz White, 2820 Tenth street, West Berkeley, will tell their friends when they return from a vacation spent near Alder Springs, a Colorado summer resort. The two men are recovering from exhaustion and exposure today, and news from the Eastern states is that they will be none the worse for their painful experience.

Bowman and White have been on a camping and fishing trip in the beautiful but very mountainous country near Grindstone Canyon in Colorado. Last Saturday the two men went down the canyon to whip the streams for trout. The journey was too much for them, and Bowman, the older man of the two, 40 years of age, fell exhausted on the return. In the hope of reaching aid, White, 18 years, continued to struggle up the canyon, until he reached Alder Springs, where guests were informed of Bowman's plight. A relief party was formed at once, led by J. B. Coffman, a forest ranger.

The party combed the hills and surrounding country for five hours, when at last the exhausted man was found prostrate on the ground. He was thrown on a pack mule and rushed to medical aid, where his condition was pronounced not serious. The two campers came back in their own tent home today, and it is thought that they will continue their fishing trips in a few days.

Gun Inventor Loses Royal Post of Honor

ATHENS, Aug. 8.—General Panyotis Danglis, former minister of war, chief of the general staff during the first Balkan war and credited with being one of the inventors of the famous French 3-inch guns, has been removed from his post as royal aide-de-camp by King Constantine.

General Danglis was minister of war in the Venizelos cabinet of 1915, which resigned on October 5 of that year. An Athens despatch on July 24 told of his election as president of a league formed by adherents of former Premier Venizelos to counteract the effect of anti-Venizelos leagues among the demobilized Greek reservists.

NEW RATES STRIKE AT TERMINALS

Withdrawal of Low Tariffs on Freight Consigned to Coast Ports Creates Grave Anxiety to Transcontinental Shippers

There is considerable anxiety among shippers at both ends of the transcontinental lines over the new tariffs made necessary by the order of the Railroad Commission withdrawing permission to maintain the low terminal rates established to meet water competition. The new tariffs will go into effect on September 1 and have already been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission. They have not been received by shippers or civic organizations.

It is feared that trade between here and the eastern markets will be seriously hit by the new rates. On less than carload freight to the Pacific Coast, rates will be advanced in most cases 35 per cent and on some commodities the charge will be more than doubled. As many contracts have been made in the expectation that present rates would be continued, heavy losses are feared. As it will be impossible to publish the changes in the tariffs, which are sweeping in the newspapers, railroad officials say that rates on individual items could only be learned by consulting the tariffs themselves. In general the low terminal charges have been increased to equal the intermediate rates on the percentage basis existing before the present low terminal rates went into effect. On less than carload freight, class rates have again been applied.

NO WATER COMPETITION.

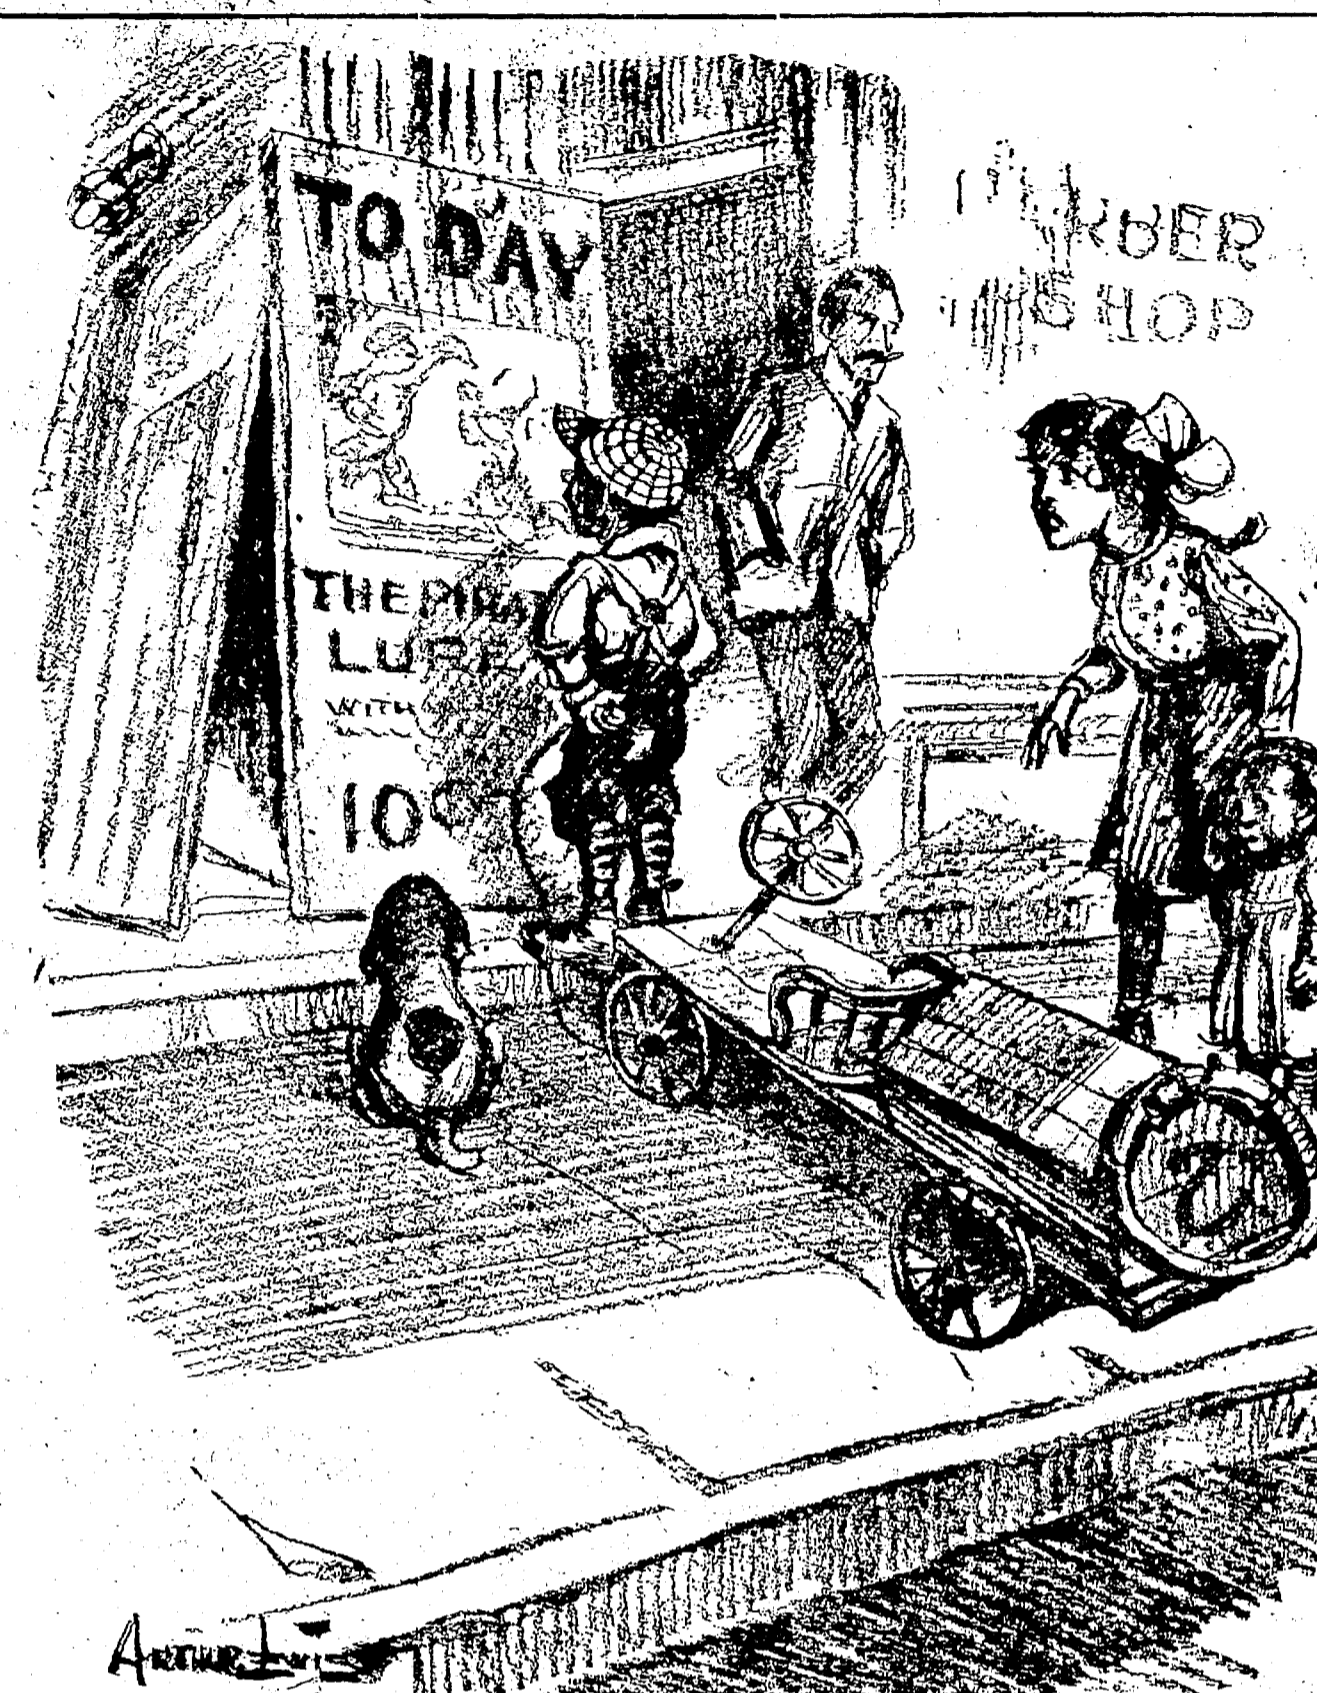

The position will be about what it would have been if additional relief had not been granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission in October, 1914. While east-bound all-rail rates on beans, canned goods, dried fruits were not referred to in terms in the recent decision of the commission, it is considered that they were lower than reasonable rates and the decision that there is no water competition makes it necessary for the carriers to advance them, or subject themselves to the danger of having them regarded as voluntary reasonable rates and used for the purpose of comparison for testing reasonableness of rates on similar commodities elsewhere.

In anticipation of the forthcoming new rates scheduled, the Southern Pacific has announced that the following rates will be cancelled on September 1:

Forty-cent rate of asphalt, barley, beans and canned goods; 45-cent rate on wine; 60-cent rate on dried fruit in boxes, and 80-cent rate on dried fruit in sacks, from California to Atlantic seaboard via Sunset Gulf route.

Also 52 1/2-cent rate on canned goods; 60-cent rate on dried fruit in boxes and

MONTEREY ROOKY GAINS AVOIRDUPOIS

Recruits Back From Training at Citizens' Camp Enthusiastic Over Beans and Mulligan Fare and Army Life in Open

Evidently it isn't wearing on the physical constitution to be a recruit for a month at a citizens' camp, for almost all the "rookies" who have returned to Monterey training camp said they had taken on weight instead of losing it.

"It wasn't because we had an easy time, lying around all the time and eating three big meals a day," said a member of B-company. "We took on flesh because of the complete change. We were forced to live a regular life. We were out of doors all the time. We were forced to exercise—drilling, marching and doing camp duties. Our food was excellent. The beans, could not be beaten and the mulligan was everything that could be desired. I took on seven pounds."

WILL RETURN NEXT YEAR.
Many of the citizen soldiers returned wearing their uniforms. Others wore civilian clothes. They all looked the picture of perfect health and physical development. There wasn't one of the men but said that he was sorry the camp had to be broken so soon, and declared he would "recruit" next year.

It was a three months' encampment. Each recruit deposited $30 for camp life expenses. When tents were struck each received a $16 rebate. That made the living expenses for each about 60 cents a day. Of course, the men paid their own railroad expenses and bought their own uniforms.

"But the expense was worth the experience," said a member of Company B, one of the few men who admitted that he returned home weighing less than when he went into camp. But he only dropped four pounds.

"I just couldn't keep from gaining flesh while in camp," said another of the same company. "The harder I worked the more I took on. It was due to the complete change in life, out-of-door exercise, regular hours, and plenty of nourishing food."

A third "rookie" was most disgusted when he had to admit that he had gained eight pounds in weight.

"I went up there," he added, "in the hope of reducing. But there wasn't anything doing along that line. The camp was a wonderful experience."

Other men only knew what a good time they had—and the hard work we had to do was fun, because it was such a complete change—I am sure that they would have gone, or will make the encampment next year many times larger."

"Don't let the idea get out," a fourth said, "that we got fat because we didn't do anything while in camp. Say, honest, I never worked so hard in all my life. As a general rule when night came I was dog-tired. And how I did sleep. And men call always found me in the front rank, for I was always hungry. And the mess was the best. No hotel meal ever tasted any better than did our beans, 'mulligan' and spuds."

It was conceded by all the men that the encampment was a success in every phase, that they returned home feeling much better physically than when they went into camp, and that next year they would enlist again.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

DROPS APRON AND HAMMER FOR THE EVER

Quaint, Quiet and Picturesque
Old Cobbler, Loved for His Simplicity by His Neighbors,
Confesses to Being Burglar

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—The rat-a-tap-tap of a shoemaker's hammer annoyed sleeping neighbors on Tenth street early yesterday morning. But when the awakened neighbors peeped into the old man's little shoe mending shop a few hours later to scold him for shattering the Sabbath and other folks' sleep, they only smiled for they pictured him as an honest old man whose pounding of shoes, even on a Sabbath morn, earned him his only means of support.

Had they but known that the lonely and aged cobbler was arrested yesterday afternoon and that he confessed being the "terror of the Southwest," and confessed to having committed more than forty daring daylight and nighttime burglaries!

The aged cobbler—he was known by all his customers as Ed Meay—is 67 years old.

LIKE DICKENS FIGURE.
Cobbler Meay, though his brow is wrinkled by advanced age, led the life of a Good Samaritan in his little shoe mending shop at 2224 West Tenth street. He always had kind words and a pretty present for the kiddies in the neighborhood, and he would play such melodies as "Darling, I Am Growing Old" and "Home, Sweet Home" on his violin and flute.

But one day of sight of his modest shop, he was transformed into one of the strangest and most daring burglars that the police have caught in years. The substantial and the large collection of loot stolen in this city in the last ten years was found in his little apartment in the rear of his shop. They discovered stored there one trunk packed with jewelry and other articles of value, four suitcases, several satchels and many bundles, all filled with plunder, which amounts to several thousand dollars.

Meay, when first arrested, insisted to the officers that he was a poor cobbler dependent upon his awl and last for a living, and he almost convinced them that he was.

NEIGHBORS TO HIS DEFENSE.
"Take me to my neighborhood and I will prove to you that I am an honest old man," he told the officers. And they did, and the neighbors upbraided the officers for arresting the aged cobbler, for the community was proud of his honest character.

The officers asked the neighbors where the old man slept and they pointed out a little three-story shack, as quaint as the old cobbler, that snuggled on the back end of the lot.

When the little home was entered they found a room filled with suitcases, bundles and a trunk at an entrance station they were opened and on the floor were poured dozens of gold watches, amounting to fifty, rings by the box full, diamond pins, dozens of pairs of spectacles, revolvers, cameras, binoculars, auto tools, handkerchiefs, silk top hats, silk smoking jackets, full dress suits, perfumes, atomizers and dozens of other varied commodities.

Among them were four musical instruments, flute and violin. OWNS AT LAST TO CRIME.
Confronted with this wealth in small articles, the modest old shoe cobbler stretched out his arms toward the detectives and surrendered.

"Yes, I stole them. I am old and your body and soul. Take me and do what you will with my wretched carcass. I am an old man and it doesn't matter now."

While he talked with detectives he buried his gray head in his hands and occasionally reached for his handkerchief. They asked him how many burglaries he had committed, and he told them twenty-three to mention. "Perhaps twenty-three to forty—even more."

But he didn't know why he did them. He was old, he said, without friends and relatives and nothing to do all day long but pound shoes. He would close up his little shop and walk out into the moonlight beneath the low-hanging palms, sometimes to a moving picture show. The picture many times would be of his one good eye—he was blind in the other—he would amble down the street toward home with nothing ahead of him in life but the rat-a-tap-tap of his cobbler's hammer.

HIS METHOD NAIVE, TOO.
He would turn into some strange yard and ring the bell on the door. If some one answered, he would tell them he was feeling faint and begged a drink of water. If they did not answer he would enter with a passkey and in a few minutes emerge with a few articles tucked away in his pockets. Always, he said, he would only steal one or a few articles.

Now he tells the officers to do as they please with him. He has no more charges upon his stooped shoulders as they wish—for he will confess to all of them.

Woman Leaps to Death From Stockton Trestle
STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 8.—An unknown woman walked into the center of the Santa Fe railroad bridge, one mile west of Stockton, and was seen to jump into the San Joaquin river and go down in the current. Last night the body was recovered by the authorities and searching parties are out in boats looking for the body. The watchman at the bridge saw the woman leap to her death.

SEEK MISSING MAN.
FRESNO, Aug. 8.—A search was started today by the police for Joseph Moriz, traveling salesman for a local produce house, who dropped from the eighth Saturday morning. Moriz had complained of pains in his head and it is feared that he has ended his life. The body of the man was not seen this afternoon but no trace of Moriz was found. His wife is unable to account for his strange disappearance.

PLAN RECLAMATION.
SAN JOSE, Aug. 8.—A plan for the reclamation of 1125 acres of inundated land in Santa Clara county, near Coyote, was approved today by the board of supervisors. The project includes the drainage of the acreage and construction of a canal to carry off the water. Farmers in the district have subscribed funds to begin immediate work.

Tale of Panther's Tail Here Told

Autoist Captures Cat
Under Tire

PORT ORFORD, Ore., Aug. 8.—This is a tale of a panther's tail. Shiller, B. Herrman of Portland, motoring on the Elk river by night, came suddenly upon the panther. He jammed on his brakes. The machine stopped with its front wheel on the animal's tail.

For five minutes the air was shattered with the panther's protests. It gnawed all portions of the automobile within reach and ripped a hole in the ribbing. Finally it bounded away with a loud cat curse, leaving the end of its tail under the wheel.

Herrman is going to have the fragment examined and keep it as a souvenir.

Man in Automobile Victim of Sky Bolt

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 8.—Judge Charles G. Revelle of the Missouri supreme court was struck by lightning near here last night and rendered unconscious. Physicians said today he would recover. The other occupants of the car were uninjured.

How You Can Make Hairs Quickly Disappear

(Helps to Beauty)
Even a stubborn growth of hair will quickly vanish from the face, neck or arms after a single treatment with delatone. To remove the hairs, make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after about 5 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be quite certain; you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

POISON ENDS WAR AGAINST MORAL CODE

Woman Cries Out, in Last Note
Against Uneven Battle of Her
Sex and Drains Vial of Lysol
as Protest Against Society

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Two little babes, scarcely more than infants, are crying for their mother this morning. A woman, lying at the Harbor Emergency Hospital from poisoning, and a man, at the city prison charged with white slavery, while on the shoulders of the law which discriminates between the sexes, is placed the responsibility. Louise La Salle, the sorrowing mother, swallowed a vial of poison as the result of overwrought nerves and a period of anxiety and sorrow. Before she took the drug she wrote an indictment of the "law" and pointed a finger of accusation at the man in the case, Clarence McClellan, alias Clarence MacLaren.

In a room at 420 Kearny street the La Salle woman was found soon after midnight groaning in pain from the effects of the burning lysol. She was rushed to the Harbor Hospital too late to save her life and the police found this message, dedicated "To Law":

"I am done for. I might as well go. I stood McClellan's beating and dirt, but

Proves Prisoners Not Threat Writers Expert Lifts Blame From Suspects

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Thodore Kytha has prepared elaborate exhibits and magnified copies of the numerous letters and postcards of a threatening and defamatory nature received prior to the preparedness parade of July 22 and since the bomb outrage. Nearly every one of these missives, all of which are anonymous, are laboriously printed by hand.

The investigation thus far absolves all of the five suspects under indictment for murder from having any hand in their preparation. Specimens of the writing of the suspects have been photographed and compared by Kytha, and he has found, no similarity.

Another witness who may have something of importance to communicate in connection with the bomb explosion has been located by the police and is en route here from Portland, Oregon. According to information in the hands of the investigators this woman went to the office of Mrs. Rena Mooney on the night prior to the perpetration of the outrage. She had difficulty in getting an answer to her rap on the studio door, but finally was admitted and saw a strange man. She knows Mooney very well and declares that the man inside was not Mooney and that he seemed much disturbed, taking Mrs. Mooney to task for admitting her. The police think he may have been Warren K. Billings' pal, for whom they have been searching for two weeks.

Her description of him is that he had a black mustache and was of medium build and dark. This would coincide with the general appearance of Billings' associate as pictured by persons who saw him.

Lightning Causes $100,000 Oil Fire

BEAUMONT, Tex., Aug. 8.—Crude oil valued at $100,000 was destroyed here last night in a fire which started by lightning.

I know the law will help a man, but not a woman who has met her downfall from a man. God bless all men, but pity all women. I drank to my sorrow for the likes of Clarence McClellan. Please forgive me and see that my babies are all right.

"Law will find out that men are no good if they are the likes of McClellan." Detective Sergeant Thomas Furman, who arrested McClellan several days ago, asserted that he would see to it that the babies are taken care of.

Raised Pastor's Salary to Buy His Gasoline

STOCKTON, Aug. 8.—Recently the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church presented their pastor, the Rev. E. W. Silvers, who came here from McMinnville, Ore., with an automobile. Yesterday it unanimously issued a call to him for the ensuing church year and increased his salary.

"If a preacher is given an automobile, it's no more than right he should be given gasoline money also," said one of the trustees.

The Rev. Mr. Silvers and family left for the Yosemite this morning on a motor jaunt.

Army and Navy Orders

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 8.—The following orders were issued yesterday:

First Lieutenant of medical reserve corps honorably discharged, their services being no longer required:

Gustavus E. Hogue, Charles A. Cattermole, Clarence E. Yount, James P. Presnell, George A. O'Connell, Frank P. Williams, George A. Clotwell, H. E. Yarnall, Fred A. Pittenger, Henry W. Burnett, Charles D. Center, Merion A. Webber, Curtis L. Jackson, Francis B. Johnson, Charles A. Spelsberg, Jr., Gerald P. Lawrence, Gilbert E. Seaman, Luther H. Reichelderfer, Allen J. Jorvey, Harold M. Hays, Charles B. Parker, Homer S. Warren, Elliot Bishop, Leonard D. Freese, William Murchell, Jr., Henry S. Satter, Henry T. Byford, Bernard J. Beuker.

Second Lieutenant James N. Caperton, infantry, has been ordered before the examining board at Fort Myer, Va., for examination to determine his fitness for transfer to the medical reserve corps.

ECONOMY OPPOSES FIVE-CENT LOAF

Speaker at Bakers' Convention
Advocates Price and Size
Increase.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 8.—A 5-cent loaf of bread is an economic waste in the opinion of C. B. Power of Pueblo, Colo., who today addressed the convention here of the Master Bakers of the United States. He discussed "The Cost of Living and Why." Efficiency, said Power, demanded the baking of 10-cent loaves of bread rather than the 5-cent loaf. He estimated the cost of baking 1000 loaves of bread at cents a loaf, 24.5 more than the cost of baking the same flour into 500 10-cent loaves.

The extra cost he itemized as follows: Additional material, 12 cents; additional non-productive labor, 15 cents; additional cost of wrapping, 30 cents; additional cost of wrapping paper, 1.25; maintenance, depreciation and interest on additional machinery, 40 cents; additional number of bakers and cripples (spilled loaves), 8 cents, added selling expense, $1.30.

"The overhead charge cannot be just, continued Power, 'A baker should regard himself as an agent of the people who use bread, with the sacred responsibility of providing the people with the most digestive and nutritious bread it is possible to make.' The bread is accomplished with a 5-cent loaf."

"SAFETY FIRST" IS SLOGAN OF WEEK

Automobile Man to Indicate
Regulations to Guard Road
Against Accident.

The week of August 21 has been chosen as "Safety First Week." Merchants, manufacturers, members of the Chamber of Commerce and of other commercial organizations will combine forces with automobile dealers and owners in an effort to decrease the number of accidents due to automobiles. The week will be under the auspices of the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association and of the Safety First Association of California. W. R. Humphries will be chairman.

The local week will begin with the distribution of pennants and windshield mottoes directing the attention of motorists to safety first, and the streets will be decorated with signs and mottoes pertaining to the subject. On Sunday, sermons in several of the churches will deal with the Safety First motto, which one minister has called the "Golden Rule boiled down." Monday will be a "tax day" for the distribution of free tags for pedestrians, motorists and school children, calling attention to the rules of the road.

A series of prizes will be offered to children for the best story embodying a number of mottoes pertaining to safety first. The week will close with an automobile parade. A feature of this parade will be the award of a prize for the best five-word slogan pertaining to safety first. Signs bearing the competitive mottoes will be painted free of charge on muslin strips for the contestants.

The local committee which is working out the plans for the week is headed by H. F. Clamage, R. A. Spaulding, C. L. Hebrank and Herbert S. Smith.

ROAD BOOSTERS TO ENJOY OUTING NEW ANTI LIQUOR LAWS ARE PASSED

Skyline Boulevard and Dublin Canyon to Be Viewed in Celebration.

Seattle Puts Down Custom of Permitting Cafe Patrons to Supply Own Drinks.

Theodore Schlueter, chairman of the Oakland committee for Good Roads Day, August 9, has issued a statement to those planning to participate in the demonstration. The day's tour will not be a speed contest, according to Schlueter, but will include a ride, a lunch and entertainment.

"Governor Johnson has proclaimed tomorrow, August 9, Good Roads Day," Schlueter says, "and all are specially asked to join us. We will travel via the Tunnel Road along Skyline boulevard to Foothill boulevard and out to Dublin Canyon. From Dublin Canyon we will go to Castro valley and to the Water Temple at Sunol."

"Where we will stop for lunch and be entertained by a baseball game between the Auto Dealers and the Chamber of Commerce. Other features of the entertainment will be bicycle races, foot races, sack races, three-legged races, tug of war and speeches by Charles F. Stern, State highway commissioner, and Mayor Davis of Oakland. Both will talk on good roads. Music by the original good roads orchestra will be another entertaining feature."

"Those having extra room in their cars are asked to notify Theodore Schlueter Jr. at the Hotel Oakland in the branch office of the California State Automobile Association. All are asked to bring their own lunch and to be at the Chamber of Commerce at 9:30 a. m."

Oakland's contingent will be joined by the San Francisco delegation.

Artist Bartling Denies Wife's Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Christian L. Bartling, the artist whose wife Effie is suing him for divorce, filed an answer this morning in which he denies her charges of cruelty and asks for a legal separation himself on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Bartling resides at Gilroy on her father's ranch and recently when Bartling went there in an effort to affect a reconciliation his father-in-law had him arrested for trespassing. The wife's suit begun in Santa Clara county, was transferred here last week.

Mrs. Bartling had asked for $300 a month alimony. The artist today accuses her of deserting her on December 13 last and says he is perfectly willing to contribute $20 a month for the support of his child, now in his wife's possession.

Convicted Attorney Gets 5-Year Term

STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 8.—H. Stanley Crane, a Stockton attorney recently convicted of embezzling $400 from a client, Mrs. Helen Klepple, was sentenced by Judge John Hancock to serve five years in San Quentin prison. Crane's attorneys have notice of appeal.

"Sweet Sixteen" Suits

—Yes, They're Here Again!

You Are Mistaken

—if you think that moderate prices cannot procure exceptionally high-grade garments.

It has been left for the "Greater" to not allow confidence in "Sweet Sixteens" to be shaken, with all the conditions tending to elevate prices and depreciate quality.

Put your imagination to work in New York, where styles go through the melting pot. Regard carefully what is seen on Fifth Ave. and Broadway and you'll find the best styles mirrored in "Sweet Sixteens."

SUITS that can't help being high style.

RAPTUREDLY beautiful, attuned to travel with suits that have all the marks of the $25 models now signaling the approach of Fall.

Yes, here they are
